Early Vote Light in Charter Election

BALLOTING EXPECTED TO GAIN

Friends and Foes of Document Busy Conveying Folk to Polls

STRUGGLE OF MANY WEEKS NEARS END

Both Sides Confident of Victory as Fight Draws To Close

Only a light vote was cast during the early hours of today's election on the proposed city charter.

Up to 1 p. m. approximately only 10 per cent of the registered voters had cast ballots. At that time, however, the voting was growing heavier and it was predicted that shortly the balloting would be spirited.

Friends and foes of the document were busy conveying voters to the polls by automobile.

The election came as the finale of many weeks of campaigning on the part of those who desired the passage of the charter and also of those who desired its defeat.

As the time for the closing of the polls drew near, both sides were confident of victory.

The exact percentage of the registered voters who had cast ballots by 1 p. m. was 10.9 per cent, according to newspaper compilations.

At that time headquarters of the proponents and opponents predicted that by the time the polls closed at 7 p. m. 60 per cent of the voters would have expressed themselves on the issue.

In five precincts visited in various parts of the city, 520 votes had been cast, with the registrations for the precincts totalling 4781.

The polling places visited, the number of ballots cast and the registration for each, were as follows:

"I thank you for the honor you have given me—without further remarks we will proceed to business."

This was the new mayor's acceptance address. After adjournment he declared that this "speech" would stand as a record through his term as the longest address he had delivered.

He also warned newspaper men and friends that he is to be referred to as president of the council and not as mayor.

City Clerk E. L. Vegely administered the oath of office to the new officers and then called the new council to order.

MAN KILLED AS TRUCK WHEELS CRUSH BODY

Melven B. Kuykendall, 38, Tustin, died at 6 p. m. last night as the result of terrible injuries which he sustained about noon yesterday when he was crushed beneath the left rear wheel of a truck on which he was working near Oak and Walnut streets here, according to a coroner's jury verdict following an inquest at 10 a. m. today.

Kuykendall was employed on a truck owned by the Orange County Rock and Gravel company, according to testimony introduced at the inquest. He had been riding on the running board of the truck, and was attempting to alight, when a gauntlet glove, which he was wearing, became entangled with a rod on the truck. He was hurled beneath the vehicle, and the wheel passed over his chest and arms.

Rushed to the Community hospital, he died six hours later without regaining consciousness.

Scott Prather, a brother-in-law of the deceased, for whom Kuykendall worked, witnessed the accident, and testified at the inquest today.

The deceased was born in Greenville, S. C., and had lived in Orange county but two years.

He leaves his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kuykendall, Tustin, and eight brothers and sisters. The following reside in Orange county: Mrs. Mary Vestal, Tustin; Mrs. Effie Prather, Tustin; F. J. ### Judge with Booze Raiders Hands Out Quick Justice

(By United Press Leased Wire)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 17.—A traveling court, to accommodate bootleggers, was making the rounds of Clay county, Missouri today.

Accompanied by twenty-five deputy sheriffs and a prosecuting attorney, M. L. Swanner, justice of the peace, set a new precedent in law enforcement practice by setting up court at the scene of arrest.

John E. Jackson, alleged bootlegger, was the first man tried by the portable judiciary. He was arrested in his home near Liberty, Mo., for operating a still. Without leaving home he was sentenced to one year in jail and fined $500.

Prosecutor Ray Cummins, who tries the cases after the deputies make the raids, said the "gypsy court" would hold sessions daily until Clay county was dried up.

DAVIS RAPS GARY VIEWS ON ALIENS

Labor Secretary Declares in Favor of Selective Immigration to President.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Selective immigration and compulsory alien regulation were urged upon President Harding by Secretary of Labor, Davis, and other industrial leaders for removing present immigration restrictions to enable American industry, faced with a labor shortage, to procure a supply of cheap labor.

In a letter to Mr. Harding, Davis denounced in strong terms the agitation of E. H. Gary and other industrial leaders for removing present immigration restrictions to enable American industry, faced with a labor shortage, to procure a supply of cheap labor.

PLAN BUILDING AT THIRD AND BROADWAY

Erection of a six-story building on the southeast corner of Third street and Broadway, the offices in which would be individually-owned and the basement and first floor of which would be owned and occupied by the Santa Ana Branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank, is a probability of the immediate future, according to reports in circulation here today.

Sixty per cent of the building was said to have been tentatively sold. The sale of 10 per cent more will be the signal for the undertaking of the building project, as the promoters are confident that the remaining 30 per cent would be disposed of before completion of the structure, it was declared.

Under Unit Plan.

The program calls for the utilization of the five upper stories as offices, with each office being sold to an individual. Unit-holding in office and apartment buildings has been in vogue in Long Beach and other places for some time, but this is the first attempt at such a system in Santa Ana, it was pointed out.

J. K. Hermon, president of the Santa Ana Branch of the Pacific Southwest financial institution, was in Los Angeles today and confirmation of the bank's connection with the movement could not be had. E. L. Crawford, cashier, and E. E. Vincent, vice president, said they knew nothing of the plan.

F. W. Slabaugh, county purchasing agent, recently bought the lot upon which the proposed building is to be erected. It is understood that satisfactory arrangements have been made with him for purchase of the lot.

A number of other building improvements in the vicinity are contemplated, it was said.

Another petition is understood to be in circulation among property owners for installation of an ornamental lighting system on Broadway, from First to Hickey street. Such a petition has been on file with the city council for more than a year, but never has been acted on, largely because of the fact that the petitioners did not include the formation of a district to pay for maintenance of the system.

NEW SITE FOR COUNTRY CLUB PURCHASED

A committee representing a holding company formed for the purpose, today completed the purchase of 144.29 acres from Bradford and Bryan and McCoy, Santa Ana heights, as a site for the new Santa Ana Country Club. Charles F. Smith, a member of the committee, announced today. Other members of the committee are John L. Wheeler, C. S. Kendall and H. J. Forgy.

At the same time, George B. Shattuck, secretary of the Orange County Country Club, announced that he was preparing notices advising members that the annual meeting of the club would be held at St. Ann's Inn the evening of April 26.

The Santa Ana Country club is to be a reorganization of the Orange County club. Reports will be made at the annual meeting by various committees that have been working out details for organization of the new club.

It is understood that the holding company, created to buy the land pending organization of the new club, is paying approximately $71,000 for the site.

By-laws which have been adopted by the board of directors are expected to have been filed with the corporation commissioner and returned here by the time of the annual meeting.

At this meeting officers will be elected, a board of directors will be chosen and business will be conducted looking to the creation of the Santa Ana Country Club.

It is understood that the new club will not come into official existence until the expiration of the lease on the present golf grounds held by the old club.

With Guy Gilbert as chairman, the membership committee is developing plans for a campaign, while the finance committee, composed of Edward McWilliams, W. A. Huff and C. E. Parker, is working out details of a time-payment plan that will make it easy for members to meet the initiation fee.

It is the hope of the new club to procure at least 400 members at an initiation fee approximately $400, so that when the new grounds are improved and buildings are erected the club will be out of debt.

PARIS MARK BROKEN BY AMERICANS

Fliers Seek to Shatter Continuous Flight Figure of 34 Hours

DAYTON, Ohio, April 17.—Lieutenants John McReady and Oakley G. Kelley, hurtling toward a new world endurance record in the army monoplane T-2, passed the twenty-five hour mark shortly before noon today.

With several long distance speed records tucked safely under their belts, the veteran pilots were driving their huge plane over the triangular course at an approximate speed of 74 miles an hour.

Completing its sixteenth lap shortly after noon, the T-2 had covered 1,860 miles in slightly more than 26 hours.

Meantime, Lieutenant Harris, in a De Havilland four, was just getting started in his attempt to set new speed records for 1500 and 2000 kilometers. Observers estimated, as Harris finished the 18th lap, that he was making an average speed of 125 miles an hour.

The T-2 was believed to be holding to a speed of less than 75 miles an hour in an effort to save gasoline for a final spurt of speed later in the day.

New records already set by the T-2 during its present flight include speed marks for 1,500, 2,000, and 2,500 kilometers.

At 7:40 p. m. the fliers will have equalled the sustained flight record of thirty-four hours set by a French pilot.

Ground observers declared the roar of the low compression engine as the T-2 swept over the triangular course indicated the plane is behaving excellently.

Before midnight the T-2 by covering 1500 kilometers in 12 hours, 30 minutes, an average speed of 74 miles an hour, had broken the French record for that distance.

At 7:15 a. m. the T-2 had set a new world speed record for 2500 kilometers by covering the distance in 21 hours, 37 minutes, an average hourly speed of 71.86 miles. The distance is 1550 miles.

Lieutenant Harold R. Harris, flying a De Havilland four, hopped off from the local field at 6:23 a. m. in an attempt to break all known speed records for 1500 and 2000 meters.

"I'm out to clean up any records the T-2 may have overlooked," said Harris.

FIX BUDGET OF FAMILY OF 6 AT $110.85

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, April 17.—A family of six can live on $110.85 a month, Miss Florence Nesbitt of the United Charities declared in a budget made public today.

The budget provides for a mother, a working girl of 16 and four children from four to ten years old.

A total of $6.50 a month is allowed for the working girl's clothing. It does not include rouge, permanent waves nor silk stockings.

In event the 16-year-old girl does not work outside her home she should dress on $4 a month, Miss Nesbitt asserted.

The budget:

Rent $18.00.
Food $44.85.
Fuel $9.75.
Household supplies $4.50.
Clothing (family) $13.75.
Clothing (working girl) $6.50.
Spending money (working girl) $4.00.
Car fare $4.00.
Care of health $1.50.
Recreation, education, etc., $4.00.
Total, $110.85.

The United Charities officials declared that if the girl worked in a factory, receiving an average of $12 a week, the remainder of the amount, $72.35, must be supplied by charity.

In the event the family of six contains a father instead of one of the children, the food estimate must be increased $2.20 a month, it was said.

GOVERNOR PUTS D. K. ON BILL FOR WOMEN

(By United Press Leased Wire)

SACRAMENTO, April 17.—The statutes of California today include the Jones-Broughton community property measure. Governor Friend W. Richardson late yesterday affixed his signature to the bill, following an open hearing held in his office.

The measure, which gives the wife testamentary rights to one-half of the community property, passed both houses of the legislature by substantial majorities.

Proponents of the bill were not heard by Governor Richardson, only the opposition being given a right to speak. Presumably the governor had decided in advance that he would approve the bill.

Chief argument used against the bill was that it would tend to injure credit of business men and disrupt business, since the wife would control one-half of the community property. A large delegation attended the hearing at which the measure was considered.

Scheduled session of the senate finance committee last night to further discuss the administration budget was postponed because of the absence of a quorum. It is possible the document will come before the body tonight in a special session.

The assembly was today slated to open discussion of the budget, following announcement yesterday that anticipated amendments would be ready at 11 a. m. Lower house consideration of the measure will possibly take the remainder of the week.

Sidelights On What Is Occupying Minds And Time of Solons

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 17.—Constitutional amendment enabling the legislature to pass a measure legalizing ten round boxing matches in California was reported favorably to the senate today, following its consideration late yesterday by the constitutional amendments committee. The measure, which has already passed the assembly, may come up for senate vote this week.

The same committee practically killed an amendment by Arbuckle giving the legislature power to call an election to choose delegates to a constitutional convention. Senator Arbuckle declared that the present constitution was becoming a "statute book" and the people were demanding a new one. Motions both to approve the measure and to send it out with an unfavorable recommendation were defeated.

The assembly spent a large portion of yesterday afternoon considering the Purley measure to regulate the sanitary conditions in barber shops of the state. Vote on the bill, already passed in

De La Motte said he would invoke the midnight dancing rule against any record breaking dancers who try to do their stuff here.

NIGHT JAILOR, ROUGH RIDER, DIES HERE

Wallace Willard, cow puncher, night jailor here, and Rough Rider under Theodore Roosevelt, has gone to join his commander.

After an illness of four weeks, during most of which time he was confined at the Orange county hospital, where he underwent three operations for an undetermined malady, he died at 1:20 p. m. today.

Willard was a veteran officer, having served as a deputy sheriff in Arizona, El Centro and Calexico for many years. Shortly after Sam Jernigan became sheriff, he came to Orange county, and accepted the position of night jailor. Three days after he began his duties, he was seized with a serious illness. After two operations, he seemed to recover, and last week he resumed his work at the jail.

Last Sunday he was again seized, and removed to the hospital. Physicians there were said to be unable to determine the exact nature of his illness. He failed rapidly.

His death brought an end to a thrilling career. At the outbreak of the Spanish-American war, Willard, then a youthful cowpuncher, enlisted in Colonel Roosevelt's regiment, and served throughout the war with him.

ROTARIANS AID DAY NURSERY PURCHASE

Following today's meeting of the Rotary club at St. Ann's Inn at noon, Mrs. T. E. Stephenson, representing the Ebbl society, conferred with the directors of the Rotary club with reference to procuring that organization's aid in completing a purchase of certain property on Garfield street for the Day Nursery. The directors assured her that $3,000, the amount needed, would be supplied the Ebbl society next week.

Mrs. Stephenson outlined the Day Nursery's history, showing how it aids working women by giving them a place at which their children may be left in good care.

The property on Garfield street has been bought by the Ebbl society. The price is $4,700 cash. The Day Nursery has $2,100 in its treasury. If bought on contract, the property will cost $5,500. While the Rotary club has had in mind the erection of a new building for the Day Nursery, the present situation was pointed out as an emergency, for the Day Nursery by May 1 must be out of the East Fifth street building it now occupies. The Ebbl society, which has mothered the Day Nursery from its start, proposes to occupy the Garfield street property, and if conditions are ripe for the erection of a new building later the property now being bought can then be sold.

Among the visitors at the Rotary club luncheon today were four Rotarians, Dr. J. I. Durant, of Seattle, Wash., George G. Averill, of Waterville, Me., Don H. Fry, of Los Angeles, and John M. Brinkley, of Portland, Ore.

The Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was welcomed into the club today as its newest member. The Rev. Mr. Roberts was a Rotarian at Champaign, Ill., before coming here.

TWO KILLED IN BATTLE WITH RUM RUNNERS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW ORLEANS, April 17.—Two deputy sheriffs were killed in a battle with alleged bootleggers near here today, according to advices to police.

Joseph Estopinal and August Esteves, deputies, attempted to halt a truck driven by alleged rum runners in St. Bernard parish and were met with a volley of shots, the report said. The two officers died almost instantly.

According to two deputies who witnessed the gun fight, Estopinal stepped into the middle of the road and ordered a driver, a negro, to halt. The negro replied by shooting the deputy in the mouth, fatally wounding him.

An instant later a terrific explosion was heard a few yards back and Esteves fell, riddled with buckshot fired at close range from ambush. Hundreds of armed men, hastily organized and led by a squad of picked officers, took up the trail of the slayers.

A second truck load of whiskey which followed shortly after the shooting was seized by the officers and the driver arrested. The owner of both trucks is known to officers, they said.

FATHER OF MICHIGAN SENATOR LAUDS S. A.

"I would like to remain in Santa Ana and stay at St. Ann's Inn always," James J. Couzens, father of the United States Senator from Michigan, who is about to return to his Michigan home, told G. A. Schweiger, manager of the hotel here, today.

Mr. and Mrs. Couzens have been staying at St. Ann's for several weeks. During the early part of the sojourn, their daughter was visiting with them.

"Family ties, however, demand that we return to our home in Michigan," declared the senator's father, "and unfortunately those ties demand that we return this week. I feel sure, however, that we will return again to enjoy Santa Ana and St. Ann's at some future time."

SUSPECT AMATEUR IN STANFORD BURGLARY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., April 17.—Belief that an amateur burglar was responsible for Saturday night's looting of the Stanford Museum here, was expressed by Santa Clara county officers today.

The could not explain on any other basis why he stripped gold trappings from the mummy of an Egyptian priest of the Twenty-sixth dynasty and from an unidentified mummy dating from about 100 A. D., when other priceless relics were within his reach. No trace of the burglar has been uncovered.

ORDER 900 ACRES IN NEW WATER DISTRICT

Overruling the protest of M. Ryman, Buena Park, the supervisors today voted to include his 900 acres in the Orange county water district No. 1 to be formed there if the election May 15 is successful.

Ryman asked the board to exclude his property from the bounds of the proposed district, but his plea was overruled.

Bids for improvement work in road improvement district No. 20 will be received May 1 at 11 a. m.

STRANGE HABIT MAY SEND MAN TO DEATH

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Because he is said to have had the habit of placing two periods at the end of each sentence he wrote, Forest Cecil Mingle, on trial here for the murder of N. F. Dabelich, may be hung.

Testimony of handwriting experts on letters and hotel register signatures has been introduced to connect Mingle with the slaying. In every case, they say, the distinguishing feature of his handwriting was the unusual double periods.

SAYS RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

James H. Allen, of Congress avenue, Rochester, N. Y., once a rheumatic cripple, who discovered ALLEN-RHU and with it banished every trace of uric acid and every sign of rheumatism from his body, says that every druggist guarantees a full pint bottle of ALLEN-RHU to show the way to complete recovery or money back.

It relieves at once and immediately after you start to take ALLEN-RHU the good work begins. It dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels. Even in cases where suffering has been piteous and painful all traces of this dread disease disappear in a few days. C. S. Kelley Drug Store will supply you. Adv.

"Cause and effect" is Nature's law

It controls life—science is based on it—no one can escape it.

Many people find that coffee and tea, both of which contain the drug, caffeine, are often a cause of nervousness, headache and loss of sleep.

There are many, too, who have found that the easy and sure way to avoid coffee and tea troubles is to drink delicious Postum as the meal-time beverage.

Try Postum in place of coffee or tea. It is pure, healthful and has a delightful full-bodied flavor.

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

PRISONERS NARROWLY ESCAPE SUFFOCATION

REDONDO BEACH, April 17.—
Several prisoners in the local jail narrowly escaped suffocation when the mattress and bedding in one of the cells caught fire. The police were notified by the fire truck driver that smoke was issuing from one of the barred windows. He was ready with a portable fire extinguisher but could not get inside until one of the officers had unlocked the outer door.

The prisoners were dragged outside to recover from their partial asphyxiation and the blaze was quickly extinguished.

Chief of Police Henry says one of the prisoners probably fell asleep while holding a burning cigarette.

made chiefly of eucalyptus taken from the eucalyptus forests of inland

In inland Australia the atmosphere is so impregnated with balsam thrown germs do not thrive, and in consepractically unknown.

ROME SEEKS HONORS

FOR DECEASED POPE

ROME, April 17.—A movement has been started in Italy to induce Pope Pius XI to beautify Pope Pius X, who died at the beginning of the war in 1914. Pope Pius X is considered by tens of thousands of Italians to be the holiest man who sat on St. Peter's chair in many generations.

The people here are beginning to consider his tomb in the basement of St. Peter's Church as a sanctuary and it is constantly covered with flowers and other offerings. Many attribute miracles, such as curing the sick, relieving sorrow and preventing death to his tomb.

The expression that Pope Pius X was a saint was often heard even during his lifetime and now his goodness is growing in the popular imagination to such an extent that Pope Pius XI may soon be compelled to act. In ecclesiastic circles Pope Pius's name has always been mentioned with the greatest devotion.

USE NEW CONDENSER

ON HOMEMADE SETS

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The operation of radio receiving sets can be improved by the use of a very simple and cheap condenser connected across the telephone receivers and a similar one connected in series with the antenna, according to the Bureau of Standards of the Department of Commerce.
Longer waves can be received by the use of a very simple type of loading coil. The coil is particularly useful in connection with the single-circuit receiving set.

The auxiliary condenser which is used in series with the antenna, and the loading coil, may also be used when the crystal detector is replaced by an electron tube detector unit, or when an amplifier is added to the receiving set.

The condenser used in series with the antenna makes it convenient to tune to wave lengths less than 300 meters. The condenser used across the intensity of signals which are received from some radio stations. The loading coil enables the equipment to respond to wave lengths above 600 meters, up to about 3000 meters. Time signals from high power stations can thus be received. The use of the loading coil also increases the receiving distance of the equipment, because many of the higher power stations use longer waves.

All these features are fully described in Circular No. 137 of the Bureau of Standards, which is the fourth of a series dealing with construction of a very simple radio receiving set, and may be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., at 5 cents a copy.

ARMY OF OCCUPATION

COST SPLITS ALLIES

PARIS, April 17.—Divergence of views between delegates of the United States and the Allies on the question of reimbursing the United States for the cost of its occupation of the Rhineland developed yesterday just as it was hoped to terminate the negotiations.

When late instructions received by Elliot Wadsworth, American representative, were put before the other delegates, they found them of such a nature that they desired to study and discuss them among themselves before making any pronouncement. To give them this opportunity, Wadsworth withdrew.

The Allied delegations considering the matter decided to refer it to their respective governments.

THREE MEN FINED

BY CITY RECORDER
AFTER BOOZE RAID

ORANGE, April 17.—Three men, said to be joint owners of the National Cafe, were fined $200 in the city recorder's court following a liquor raid during which one man, said to be the manager, broke away and fled through downtown streets pursued by an officer. The men who pleaded guilty to charges of having liquor in their possession gave their names as John Goodman, George Miller and
M. Miller.

Goodman made the dash for freedom as he was being led back to the cafe by Night Officer C. Pulley. He later surrendered.

"Why didn't you shoot me?

SEWER PROJECT

IS DISCUSSED
BY GROVE MEN

GARDEN GROVE, April 17.—The necessity of perfecting some kind of an organization if Garden Grove is to come into joint use of the great outfall sewer that is being constructed for use by Santa Ana, Orange, Anaheim and Fullerton was pointed out at a meeting of the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce yesterday by City Manager
Steward, of Anaheim.

There is no doubt but there is a strong sentiment here in favor of joining the project, as it is looked on as a logical way of solving the community's sewage problems of today and of the future.

Steward said that under the state law there must first be an organization, then that organization must vote its bonds, then a contract can be signed with the other parties to the project. Steward said that the other cities preferred to deal with a municipality.

The two kinds of organization that are open to Garden Grove in this connection are the municipality and the sanitary district. Deputy District Attorney D. G. Wettlin was present and thoroughly explained the steps that are necessary to form a sanitary district.

There must be a petition to the board of supervisors, a hearing, and an election. At the election the question of yes or no on the district is put up, and at the same time five trustees and an assessor for the district are elected.

NEW PASTOR TAKES

the Rev. A. C. Bode, formerly of Good Thunder, Minn., was formal-

Lutheran church Sunday afternoon.

Anaheim, Long Beach, Los Angeles, Santa Ana and Whittier participated in the ceremonies. Rev.
William Schmook of Santa Ana conducted the rites.

After the services a huge banquet was given in the basement of the St. John's school, where amidst a profusion of floral decorations a formal reception was accorded the new pastor. Two baskets of roses were presented to Rev. Bode by T. C. Amling, florist. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Rev.
Wynneken, Long Beach, Rev.

EASTERN TEACHERS
SEEK POSTS HERE

Scores of applications of teachers from all parts of the country are being received at the office of J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent, it was learned today. The majority of the applications from Eastern states will not be considered, it was said, because the California school department demands higher qualifications in teachers than do the school departments of other states.

The high degree of efficiency of California public school teachers is credited to the fact that the state virtually has its choice of instructors, brought about by the nation-wide desire to "come to California."

NEW YORK, April 17.—Charley Paddock, world's fastest sprinter, here on his way to the University of Paris games, was expected to see A. A. U. officials today about getting a permit to compete in the games denied him last week. The A. A. U. officials were ready to reconsider their action because Paddock is making the trip as a college athlete and the A. A. U. has no jurisdiction over college athletes.

Paddock went to Fordham university to work out with the track squad.

TUBBS IS CHOSEN AS MAYOR OF SANTA ANA CITY'S GROWTH IS RECOUNTED BY MITCHELL

the table is the one Chapman has occupied for four years, Chapman moving to Tubbs' position. Neff took the seat vacated by Dale, and Killen that vacated by Greenleaf.

Tubbs announced the following appointments:
Street commissioner, Neff; sewer, water and sanitary commissioner, Chapman; fire commissioner, Killen; police commissioner, Killen; public buildings and city electrician departments, McPhee.

Applications Read
Applications for appointments were read as follows:

Street superintendent, Edward W. Dahl; incumbent, L. M. Ballard, James O'Brien, (the latter held the position when the retiring board came into office; building inspector, W. S. Decker, incumbent; electrician, W. O. Packard; engineer, G. W. Knox, incumbent; superintendent, Walter Wray, incumbent; secretary water department, Laura Murray, incumbent; license inspector, Ralph Collins, incumbent; sanitary inspector, George Weibrecht, incumbent, and J. M. McMurtry, janitor. Charles Watkins, incumbent, and John Pugh, fire chief, John Luxembourger, incumbent. Applications were received from all members of the fire and police departments.

Appointments were passed over to next Monday evening.

Upon suggestion of Chapman, the street commissioner and police department were directed to co-operate in elimination of three parking "stalls" on Fourth street west of the site of the proposed new First National bank building, now in course of construction, and all parking on the Main street side of the bank.

Following adjournment members of the old and new council and some of the city employees were guests of Tubbs at James's confectionery, where liquid refreshments were served.

MAYOR TELLS CITY'S FAST GROWTH.

That the population of Santa Ana doubled in the four years during which the retiring council served and that permits for $10,210,641 in building construction were issued in the same period, was revealed by retiring Mayor J. G. Mitchell at last night's council meeting.

The mayor paid tribute to the board members for their faithfulness and for the many courtesies shown him during the term. He pointed out that 264 regular and special meetings of the council had been held, with a quorum present at each meeting.

"This has been the most pleasant four years of my business career and our associations have made me a bigger and better man," said the retiring mayor. "I am glad to have been able to serve you and the people of Santa Ana to the best of my ability, rendering what service as was in my power for the good of Santa Ana and for the up-building of our city. Our work has been constructive and the utmost good feeling has prevailed."

Tells Appreciation.
He commended the newspapers, the Chamber of Commerce and the Merchants and Manufacturers' association for their co-operation and assistance, and expressed his deep appreciation of the loyal support given by citizens.

"When the present city council assumed control four years ago the city treasury was in a very healthy condition and today the same condition prevails, for we are leaving the incoming council with a full rather than a depleted treasury and with every department of the city's business in good condition," continued Mitchell.

"When we took up the reins of office four years ago Santa Ana had a population of about 14,000 inhabitants. Today there are about 28,000 people within our gates—a gain of 100 per cent in four years. The assessed valuation of all property in 1919 was $9,717,876. At the present time we have an assessed valuation of $12,232,765, an increase of $2,264,890 or 23.4 per cent in valuation as against 100 per cent in population.

Seeks No Credit.
"The present board of trustees is not entitled to or do we claim any particular credit for the growth of our beautiful city. I speak of this rapid growth merely to show the condition that the present board of trustees has had to contend with.

"In order to cope with the rapid growth of the city it has been necessary, in some instances, to double the force in the various departments. Due to the high cost of living we have been forced to increase quite materially the wages of every person on the city payroll.

"Four years ago our police department consisted of eight men. Today we have seventeen men on the force and we are informed by the police commissioner that more men are needed in this department in order to do the work in a satisfactory manner.

"Four years ago our fire department had five paid men and the equipment consisted of two combination hose and chemical trucks and one hand drawn hook and ladder truck.

Cites Present Department.
Today our fire department consists of nine men, including the chief, and there has been added to the equipment one motor driven hook and ladder truck, one 1000-gallon pump engine, one car equipped with chemical tank, 3,500 feet of fire hose and various other

Council Rejects Bids
On $255,000 Bond Issue Voted Here

Rejection of bids submitted for purchase of the issue of $255,000 in bonds voted here recently for municipal improvements was one of the final acts of the retiring board of city trustees, meeting here last night.

Only two bids were submitted. That of the Citizens' National bank of Los Angeles offered the highest premium, $750.

The high offer was submitted on condition of acceptance at once.

The bonds carry 5 per cent interest and it was the belief of the board that a high premium should be given.

A representative of the bank explained that the bond market was not now very active, and recounted that in Los Angeles yesterday the council of that city failed to receive a bid on a large issue.

The bonds here will be re-advertised for sale.

the senate, was delayed to permit additional amendments.

The assembly will hold its first night session tomorrow night, with another following Thursday evening, it has been decided. Next week there will be night sessions every night except Saturday. With nearly 300 measures on the file, extraordinary means are necessary to consider the many bills, lower house solons have agreed.

The assembly educational committee is expected tomorrow afternoon to consider the McMillan resolution providing for a legislative committee to investigate the San Luis Obispo state polytechnic school.

INCREASE WAGES OF
S. F. RAILWAY MEN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—The Market street railways company today announced a horizontal wage increase of two cents per hour for all classes of employees, including conductors, motormen and shop workers.

It becomes effective April 29. The company operates the privately owned street railway system here, as distinguished from the municipal railway.

WATER SPOUTS REACH
1000 FT. ELEVATION

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.—Water spouts were added today to a list of unusual phenomena occurring on the Pacific, beginning with Saturday's tidal wave and disturbances.

The British steamer Marivi reported to the U. S. Hydrographic office here by radio that in the north Pacific she sighted two enormous spouts, each reaching a height estimated at 1,000 feet.

The Marivi was approximately four miles away from them but was pitched and twisted about helplessly by the swirling waters.

TOOK ON TOO MANY
NEW YORK, April 17.—Ankser Halteser set out to "whip all the cops in New York." After the fourth, about forty tackled him at once and he can test his strength for ten days on jail bars.

Sundries have been added to complete the department. We now have a No. 1, up-to-date fire department, all housed in a beautiful fire hall built in 1921 at a cost of $22,000 and fully equipped for twenty firemen.

Recounting certain features of development of the city, the retiring mayor pointed out that building permits from September 23, 1903, to April 16, 1923, totaled $16,022,036, of which amount $10,210,641 had been issued in the past four years, or 63.7 per cent of the total for approximately twenty years.

In the four years the equivalent of twenty-four miles of eighteen-foot paving has been laid, with contracts awarded and petitions granted for another twelve miles.

Sewer System Grows.
Mitchell recited that in 1920 375 house sewer connections were made, with the number increasing in 1921 to 442 and 584 in 1922. For the first three months in 1923, 188 had been issued.

Garbage collection in 1920 was 844 tons. In 1921 it was 1556 tons and in 1922 it was 1717 tons.

In the four years forty-seven subdivisions were approved by the council, with a total of 2444 lots. In the same period 7.65 miles of water pipe were laid, forty hydrants were installed, 2028 service connections were made and three new wells were drilled. In April, 1919, the daily average of water pumped was 2,695,272 gallons and for March, 1923, it was 3,482,134 gallons.

Approximately twelve miles of sewer were laid, with 7.1 miles provided for in the work now under way to connect with the joint outfall.

GREENLEAF, DALE, MITCHELL
RETIRE FROM CITY COUNCIL

The city council of the past four years adjourned at 9:25 p. m. yesterday, and three of its members retired. W. A. Greenleaf completed twelve years of service, with a record of only two absences. H. H. Dale and Mayor John G. Mitchell served four years each.

A letter from O. A. Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical association, expressing appreciation of the council's co-operation in the recent municipal convention, was accepted and filed.

A deed from the board of education for a strip of land for opening Broadway south from Fairview avenue to the Wilshire subdivision was accepted.

Approval was given a map of a subdivision made by L. H. Chatterson of seventeen acres at McFadden and Hallway streets, to be known as Kilson Square.

Bids were received for paving Garvey, Pine to Fairview, and Myrtle, Flower to Parton, and were referred to the city engineer for checking. Five-inch pavement is to be laid. E. B. Garretson, Orange, was low bidder, 19 1/2 cents a square foot for paving and 50 cents a lineal foot for house sewer connections.

Resolutions were adopted passing to bonds property on which assessments had not been paid for paving on Riverine avenue and West Nineteenth street.

The time for completing paving on South Bristol street was extended to September 11 and on West Chestnut and West Myrtle to August 2. B. R. Ford, holds both contracts.

Official canvass of the municipal election returns disclosed that the election board in the Diamond school district had failed to make an official return on the votes for members of the board of education. The votes in the district would not change results. Completing the canvass, the board found no serious discrepancies in the figures given in the semi-official return, and a resolution was adopted declaring elected those officers who received the highest vote.

Since the adjournment was made on motion of Greenleaf and second by J. W. Tubbs.

Handshaking and goodbys followed.

HYMN BOOKS STOLEN FROM POMONA CHAPEL

POMONA, April 17.—Students of Pomona college at Claremont are going to learn to sing hymns.

Last night 800 college hymn books were borne away, presumably on the wings of song, and at today's chapel service the "congregation" joined in singing "How Firm a Foundation" for the full forty-five minute period. It is understood that this procedure is to be continued until the hymn books return.

Every Girl's Club

Presided over by Miss Edith May Breckenridge, the president, the recent meeting of Every Girls' club at Junior high school was an interesting affair both in matters of business and program.
With sixty-four dollars in the treasury, the girls planned the purchase of some badly needed lawn seats for the school campus and a committee appointed to arrange for their purchase was composed of the Misses Mary Fine, Addie Poole, Mary Arnold and Hazel Crawford.
The Misses Virginia Bailey, Gail Baldwin, Jewel Fletcher, Helen Allen and Ariel Thompson will provide ornamental flower baskets for use in assemblies and the cluster of lights above the assembly stage will be given an ornamental covering by a group composed of the Misses Nellie Herschey, Josephine Sawdy, Catherine Walbridge, Margaret Tedford and Anna Quandt.
The final appointments were for members on a permanent committee to arrange for flowers for assemblies and those named were the Misses Mary Jane Owens, Helen Beatty and Louise Turner.
The program was in charge of Miss Olive Wherry of the teaching staff who presented Miss M. Birdenia Henry of the high school and Athena club advisor. Directed by Miss Henry, and introduced by Miss Evelyn Hoffman, two Athena girls, the Misses Mildred Paul and Enid Twist gave a clever little one-act play, "The Lion and the Lady" in a manner which won the delighted interest of every girl of Every Girls' club.

Bridge Offers Charm To Guest Group In Gilbert Home

Amid a charming setting of gay spring flowers, a group of friends enjoyed bridge yesterday afternoon at the attractive home of Mrs. E. S. Gilbert on South Main street, as guests of Mrs. Gilbert and Mrs. Charles Kendall, sr.

Vivid tulips, graceful sprays of stalk and all the warmer tinted blossoms of the spring were arranged in ornamental baskets and jars, giving a bright charm to the interior of the home, in pleasing contrast to the overcast skies without.

Eleven tables were arranged for bridge and at the conclusion of the series of games, Mrs. Charles S. Kelley was adjudged victor and awarded a quaintly attractive candy jar in brilliant yellow and blue color tones. Mrs. Edward McWilliams, holding second high score, received a beautiful cup and saucer in lustrous white of deck of fine playing cards offered consolation to Mrs. Ben Warner for scoring low.

Gifts were bestowed while the guests chatted in groups of four around the card tables spread with embroidered linen tea-cloths and centered with gay rose nut-cups filled with almonds and with mints nestling among the leaves surrounding the petals. Fruit salad, nut bread, toasted cheese sandwiches and coffee added to the pleasure of the affair.

Music Section

The first truly Spanish program ever enjoyed in the history of the music section was that given yesterday at the home of Miss Preble Drake when the section leader, Mrs. A. P. Nelson, presented Miss Louise Montgomery to a Spanish song group and Miss Helen Lamson, Mexican home nurse with a little group of the city's Spanish-Americans in a very entertaining program.

The program opened with chorus singing of the club federation songs, "America the Beautiful," and a discussion of the Peterborough event which is of such wide interest to lovers of McDowell.

With Miss Ruth Armstrong at the piano, Miss Montgomery sang in her usual charming manner, "Spanish Love Song," by Shaminade and "Manoia," particularly light and dainty bit by Bourgeois. After a short talk by Miss Margaret Wickes on the music memory test, the program was placed in the hands of Miss Lamson who gave a wonderfully interesting talk on "Mexican Music."

"Music is the natural expression of the Mexican soul, is an assertion often made and seemingly perfectly true," declared Miss Lamson giving many interesting details of the racial love for all things artistic and beautiful, especially music.

"Every little village has its group of musicians, like the troubadours of old. Carrying their instruments of little harps, flutes and violins, they play entirely by ear and gather at the street corners to play and sing for a few pesos, called mariachi. There is now, no typical musical instrument, the nearest approach being the bandolón, an oval shaped instrument adapted from the Spanish guitar. Some writers claim there is no Mexican music as well, but merely adaptations of Spanish rhythm to original Aztec melodies. "Spanish influence was strengthened by Cuban influence and in Cuba "La Paloma," typically Spanish in rhythm, was born and used as a war song and also in the Mexican dance form.

"Aztec influence is felt in the plaintive minor notes of many songs in direct contrast to the Spanish. Las Golondrinas is a very old folk song in the Spanish copla or verse form, and has been called Mexico's 'Home Sweet Home.' Miss Lamson further touched upon appreciation of grand opera and also of the National Conservatory of Music and its splendid system of scholarships.

At the close of her talk, a group of charming young people gave keen pleasure with a program introducing "La Zandunga," a short Mexican dance played on the cello by Esteban Rodriguez with Miss Ruth Frothingham at the piano. This was followed by Mr. Solomon Gonzalez and Mr. Rodriguez in violin and cello rendition of Las Golondrinas and a popular Mexican song, "La Nortena" as a flute solo by young Juan Pacheco. Little Miss Eliota Perera, only thirteen years old, showed unmistakable talent in her singing of "El Relicario." In fact talent was displayed by each one of the group in addition to a lively appreciation and understanding of what is really worth while in music. Their unflinching courtesy in presenting the program served to add to the charm and the club members and guests were delighted with the entire event.

The program was brought to a close by Miss Frothingham who sweetly sang "El Cefiro" with cello obligato by Esteban Rodriguez.

A large group of members and several guests enjoyed the event.

Class Outing At Beach Plunge

Thirty-two members of the 4-A class of the Junior high school had one of the times of their lives yesterday in a class outing at Huntington Beach. Leaving school directly after its close, the children, with their class teacher, Mrs. Nettie J. Wolff, and Miss Edith Gillette, girls physical training teacher at Junior high school, were soon at the Huntington Beach plunge, where they had an hour's swim. After that came a bonfire and wienie toasting on the beach.

Theater Party Follows Luncheon Of Ebell Travelers

A happy day whose arrangement was quite different from that of their usual business sessions, was that enjoyed yesterday by twelve of Ebell's First Travel section members when they gathered in Los Angeles for a luncheon and theater party.

Mrs. H. R. Bristol of Redondo, near Oceansouth and Mrs. Lynn Shaw were hostesses for the happy occasion and escorted their guests to Wilshire Inn at the corner of Wilshire and Rampart boulevards. There, flower decked tables were awaiting them and a delicious luncheon was enjoyed by the club members and two guests, Mrs. Ed. Tedford, a sister of Mrs. Bristol and Mrs. Everett Dunlap of Burbank, Mrs. Bristol's daughter.

Lunching at the Inn also were Messrs. Lincoln J. Carden and H. E. Dawes with their hosts, H. R. Bristol and Lynn Shaw. The four gentlemen then joined the Travelers and all motored to the Orpheum for a theater party.

Enjoying the happy outing were Mrs. A. W. Ames, Mrs. J. W. Bishop, Mrs. Lincoln J. Carden, Mrs. H. E. Dawes, Mrs. M. F. Heathman, Mrs. Stephen Ross, Mrs. Lynn Shaw, Mrs. W. M. Smart, Mrs. E. B. Smith, Mrs. George S. Smith, and Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave, all Ebell Travelers; their guests, Mrs. Tedford and Mrs. Dunlap and Messrs. Bristol, Shaw, Carden and Dawes.

During the afternoon, election of officers resulted in the return to leadership of Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner and to the secretaryship of Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave.

Plans were also perfected for the annual picnic at the Owensmouth ranch of the Bristol, to be held May 9.

"Back to Childhood" With Play Section

Last night the children's section of the Play and Recreation institute, meeting in the Edison company club rooms, Third and Main streets, gave a demonstration Children's party with Miss Jean Battey, chairman, the Misses Ellen Gilchrist, Helen Abbey, Eva Osborn, Emma Fischer, Eva Price, Gertrude Potts, Nettie E. Wells and Verna E. Wells, as hostesses, and the remaining members of the class, as guests. Refreshments of stick candy and half lemons were a big feature of the evening's fun.

The enrollment of the class totals 74 and while all were grown-up last night many could not be told from little children.

Tonight W. J. Julian, chairman, and his section will illustrate a Young People's party with an indoor field meet.

The final meeting of the class will be held Friday evening at 7:30 in the Edison club rooms, and the following Monday they invite the entire community to a big community "fun night" to be held in the American Legion hall. ### Small Boy Has Happy Birthday at Orange County Park

Small Raymond Mayer III, having attained the dignity of five whole years, was the pleased celebrant of the event yesterday when a group of little people and their equally interested mothers spent the day at Orange county park.

Well provided for in the shape of picnic delicacies, the party was taken to the park in the forenoon hours by the husbands and fathers who then returned to the cares and duties of the "tired business man."

Not so, the mothers and small boys who romped and played beneath the giant sycamores and enjoyed the slides and other play features, all children together. At noon the dinner was served and in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, a true birthday party flavor was imparted by the birthday cake which was served with ice cream.

Accompanying the small guest of honor was his brother Walter and of course his mother, Mrs. Raymond Mayer II, to say nothing of two adoring grandmothers, Mrs. Viola Phipps and Mrs. Raymond Mayer sr. together with Mrs. Rol and Kleess and son Bobby, Mrs. James Elliott and son Jimmy, Mrs. R. R. Miller and sons, Ernest and Bobbie, Mrs. Marie Morris and little Merle Franklin Jr., Mrs. Edward Hummel and son Bobby, Mrs. S. B. Kaufman and small daughter Vivian.

Sons of Veterans In Unique Party At G. A. R. Hall

Excellent food, cooked by men for men was the order of the day when Santa Ana Camp No. 12, Sons of Veterans held its big housewarming party at G. A. R. hall last night.

Any lingering doubts that Patriotic Instructor L. A. Ludwig and numerous other members of the camp lacked intimate knowledge of the culinary art were dispelled when the tempting menu was placed before a big crowd of guests at 6:30 p. m. Those who prepared the dinner were showered with congratulations by the diners.

The invocation and address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, with Frederick C. Hawthorne, division commander of the Sons of Veterans of California, responding in a happy vein.

Other speakers delivered brief addresses. Chief among these was a representative of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, who appeared before the gathering for the purpose of explaining the details of the Auto Resurrection Day races, to be staged in Santa Ana Saturday, May 5, by the local post, co-operating with a committee on arrangements.

Members of the Sons of Veterans were keenly interested in the "Petitcoat Spectacle," a ten-mile feature race in which the Auxiliary of the Santa Ana post will have an entrant. It was explained that cash prizes aggregating $575 will be given, as well as silver cups and more than thirty merchandise prizes for parade features.

Junior Hi Students

All those who are fond of mystery; those who like entertaining programs; those who realize the ability of Miss Edith Cornell of Junior high school to arrange such programs and finally those who are aware of the talent at Junior high school are looking forward with keen anticipation to Thursday evening when the pupils will present an entertaining evening.

The hour of 7:30 has been named and while no definite announcement has been made as to the nature of the event, the few facts enumerated, which did escape the vigilant committee, have served to whet the appetite for what is coming.

A small charge will be made at the door of the assembly room and all parents and interested friends are assured of a hearty welcome and a happy evening.

Ladies' Aid Society

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church will hold an all-day meeting at the church tomorrow, beginning at 10 a. m. With several comforts to be tied and other sewing and mending awaiting their efforts, a large attendance is desired.

Stocks, Markets and Financial News

WALL ST. JOURNAL
FINANCIAL REVIEWJudge Gary's Remarks
Cause Increase in Deals
On Stock Market

NEW YORK, April 17.—Speculative enthusiasm was spurred by Judge Gary's remarks at the annual meeting of the United States Steel corporation which aroused the hope of extra dividends before the end of the year. As a result, the volume of dealings picked up considerably from the rate maintained in the opening session of the week, and a fair degree of buoyancy was developed by a number of standard stocks.

Canadian Pacific ability to reach a further record price for the year was the feature of commanding importance in the rail class, while a broad group of industrials reached the best levels seen on the recovery from last week's break. Among these were California Petroleum, Pacific Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, General Motors and Dupont.

GRAIN PRICES JUMP
ON CHICAGO BOARD

(By United Press Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, April 17.—More serious reports of crop damage and decreased supplies, caused grain prices to advance on the Chicago board of trade today.

The visible supply of wheat for the world dropped 3,212,000 bushels. Indications of the crop were depressing. Allen Logan of Kansas City placed the amount of wheat remaining in Nebraska for harvest at 2,465,000 acres with a prospective yield of 13 bushels per acre. Few reports of the situation have been more pessimistic. Late cold weather has retarded the growth in Kentucky and Ohio.

Considerable corn was bought for export. About 200,000 bushels were sold for shipment to Germany. The cash demand was favorable. Receipts were light and insufficient to meet requirements.

The visible supply of corn decreased 1,022,000 bushels. World shipments for the week were 49,855,000, an increase of about 2,000,000 over last week.

There was little trading in oats. Prospects were for a late harvest, on account of the delayed seeding. Foreign markets advanced.

Provisions strengthened toward the close as a result of considerable buying for European export.

5 ARE INJURED AS BIG AUTO OVERTURNS

Seven men were slightly injured, and several cars were wrecked in traffic accidents, according to reports which authorities received here today.

R. E. Lee, H. E. Walker, H. L. Price, Melvin French and Frank Clark, Los Angeles, sustained cuts and bruises when a costly enclosed car, which French was driving, overturned five times near San Juan Capistrano.

The men were brought to this city by Constable Callis of the Mission town, and Walker and Clark were taken to the county hospital.

The others were not detained after they had made a report. According to French, they rented the machine from a Los Angeles firm, and started for San Diego early today. About 7:30 o'clock, at a point just in front of the residence of Superior Judge E. Y. Williams, French lost control of the car, which skidded and overturned, he said. The machine was wrecked.

Sanford Cole was slightly injured in a collision between an automobile and a motorcycle on which he was riding, at the intersection of Walnut street and Broadway late yesterday. He was taken to his home, according to police reports.

Fred Bradley was injured in a collision between automobiles driven by Harry S. Studebaker and C. F. Rapp, Long Beach, at the intersection of Huntington Beach and Talbert boulevards, late yesterday. He was taken to his home in this city.

CHICAGO, April 11 — People who fancy Nero is going to lay aside his fiddle and Sir Lancelot his spear to welcome them in spiritland when they die are destined to sip the cup of bitter disappointment for those vague regions are just as full of snobs and castes as our earthly sphere, according to an interview today with Dr. C. A. Burgess, president of the Illinois State Spiritualists' association, in convention here.

Spirits, explained, usually confine their manifestations to mundane individuals in whom they are particularly interested. "I doubt," the doctor said, "if you could ever communicate with Edward VII, for example, because he moves in his own sphere and you in yours and he wouldn't be interested in you."

King Tut Don't Worry "That goes for King Tut, too. I'm sure he doesn't care what they're doing with his tomb. He lived so long ago that we of today don't interest him even mildly. No, indeed, his spirit won't come to blows with that of the Earl of Carnarvon."

"I doubt if they ever meet. "Once in a while the old timers come back, though. Recently I was present when the spirit of Socrates made inquiries about some new oil wells. He wasn't interested in the stock, you see, but in the strata and other scientific ends."

The doctor said he frequently talked things over with Lincoln and Washington and ventured that our senators and congressmen would do well to get in touch with these two spirits.

HUBBY HUNTED, WIFE WORK IN CANNERY IS DIVORCE CHARGE

Vernon Kelsner went fishing and hunting while his wife, Isabelle Kelsner, remained at work in a cannery, she stated in a complaint for divorce filed in superior court here today.

Kelsner cursed her, and became unreasonably angry, she declared. They were married in Los Angeles, January 26, 1920, and separated last September. Attorney Morris Cain represented the plaintiff.

TO WAGE FIGHT ON NEW TRIAL FOR SAILOR

Attorneys for George Fellows, sailor, convicted of a serious crime carrying a maximum sentence of 15 years in the penitentiary, by a jury in Superior Judge R. Y. Williams' court yesterday, will ask for a new trial when their client comes up for sentence Friday, they stated today.

Fellows was found guilty as charged in the information after the jury had deliberated from 5:30 p. m. to 7:50 p. m. The jury recommended clemency, a compromise believed to have resulted from an earlier disagreement.

Jury Holds Parley. After evidence and argument had been concluded late yesterday, the jury went into consultation on the matter. Before the dinner recess was taken, they were reported to have stood eight to four for conviction.

Attorneys Roland Thompson and Albert Pierce, representing the defendant, will appeal for a new trial on the ground that the court erred in a decision on a legal point.

Thompson, yesterday afternoon, moved that the court dismiss the case on the ground that the information was not correctly drawn.

According to Thompson, when a crime occurs on a train passing through more than one county, a special venue must be declared, and the case may be tried in any county through which the train passed.

War Record Revealed. Mozley and the court agreed that when one county was specified, as in the information filed, it might be tried without that provision. It was upon this argument that the petition for a new trial will be based, according to Thompson.

Fellows was arrested on a train at Fullerton. A girl said to have been involved escaped, and was last seen in Mexico, it was declared. The defendant was on a furlough from the navy when he was arrested. He served overseas during the war in the army, and was decorated for bravery in action, the court was informed.

If his plea for a new trial is denied, he will appeal for probation, it was understood.

23 CITIES ASK CUT IN ELECTRIC RATES

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—A 20 per cent reduction in electric rates charged by the Southern California Edison company, amounting to approximately $3,500,000 a year, is urgently requested in final briefs to be filed with the state railroad commission early this week in behalf of some twenty-three Southern California cities and districts. The briefs are to be filed in connection with the Southern California rate case now pending before the commission.

In this case former Senator W. J. Carr has stated that he is prepared to file his final briefs as attorney for the Southern California cities. Reductions similar to those argued by Senator Carr will also be requested in a final brief to be filed by Judge Frank S. Brittain, representing the State Farm Bureau federation.

The various Southern California cities which are demanding a reduction in their electric rates are Los Angeles, Alhambra, Anaheim, Arcadia, Chino, Colton, El Monte, Fillmore, Fullerton, La Verne, Lindsay, Long Beach, Monrovia, Newport Beach, Pasadena, Pomona, Porterville, Riverside, San Buena Ventura, Santa Monica, South Pasadena and Sierra Madre.

EX-CROWN PRINCE IN CARE OF ALIENISTS

LONDON, April 17. — Former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany is suffering from a mild form of dementia, according to a dispatch printed here by the Express from its correspondent in Wieringen. Two Berlin alienists examined the exile at his island home and reported he suffered from mild and probably progressive dementia, the correspondent stated. When William conducted revivals with the servants for a congregation, the alienists were summoned, the story said.

MALE VOTERS REBEL. DES LACS, N. D., April 17.—Just a year ago the voters of Des Lacs elected women, married women, to every town office by a two to one majority. They went again to the polls and defeated the women, by the same score. Des Lacs again is ruled by men. The 1922 women's platform was "a bigger, better, cleaner Des Lacs." The men scoffed at first, but remained to vote for the feminine candidates. The first sign of weakening came a few months later when Mrs. F. H. Ward resigned the office of marshal, saying it was "too tough" and should be taken by a woman with fewer children. But a man was appointed to fill out her term.

W.A. HUFF CO.

Do you enjoy clever English impersonations? See Harry H. Brackett as "James Luggage," a "gentleman's gentleman," and R. Carson Smith as an indignant English poet.

Do you like a characterization of a drunken man that has nothing of a drunkard about it but is straight comedy—and good, clean comedy at that? See A. W. Branch as "George Wimbledon."

Do you want to see one of the best character bits ever known on the local stage? See Alice Makosky as "Lottie," the under-cook in a millionaire's Long Island home.

Annabelle a Delight Do you want to see a delicious bit of femininity, as dainty as a piece of Dresden china, as illogical as a child, as ingenious as Miss Sixteen-Year-Old and as wise as the serpent?

See, oh see Gladys Simpson Shafer as "Annabelle"—herself. Last night at the pretty little theater, the cast of the clever comedy written by Clara Kummer and having such a phenomenal run on the legitimate stage, was presented by a group of amateurs in a manner that would have been highly creditable in a professional cast.

It was not all in the play, nor was it all in the director, nor yet again in the actors; but a happy combination of play, director and cast yielded one of the pleasantest evenings that Santa Ana theatergoers have known for many a long day.

As the large audience dispersed after the final curtain, on every hand was heard audible comment on the play's charm. Nor was the general satisfaction only the result of a lack of critical appreciation. On the contrary, the audience was an extremely critical one—one which was well aware of what it liked to see and what a play should offer in the way of clever lines, clever directing and clever acting.

Combination Wins The lines were there—to be made or marred by the two remaining factors. Fortunately the Players have Ernest Crozier Phillips as their director, and Ernest Crozier Phillips has the Community Players as his actors. Result, one unforgettable evening.

Regardless then of the fact that one sees plays and plays, those seeing "Good Gracious Annabelle" forgot temporarily that they were watching a play—a mimic representation of the life of the idle rich. Life was so diverting, parts were so well assigned and mastered that the fun seemed entirely spontaneous from first rise to final fall of the curtain.

Characters appeared in regular order and each one seemed to have reached the pinnacle of clever acting—yet always there was something seemingly better to follow.

Harry Brackett, from his butlerish little English muttonchop whiskers to his middle-class subservience to those higher in the social scale and corresponding arrogance to those lower, was all that could be desired. As character artists, Miss Makosky and R. Carson Smith needs divide honors. Mr. Smith as "Wilbur Jennings" had an English accent so thick that it sounds like a London fog. His vacuous stare and giggle were never overdone and yet were always in evidence.

While as for Miss Makosky, she was really fascinating in her role as "Lottie." There was a constant ripple of amusement whenever she appeared on the stage. In fact, her appearance was heralded by the amusement for always she entered singing—and her every song brought laughter. At times the laughter was so prolonged that some of her lines were completely drowned out. Which seemed a pity, considering how funny were the ones heard. But her make-up! An artistic success as was her acting—but that everyone must see for himself.

As "Gwendolyn Morley," Helen Kendall was her consistently lovely self and gave a charming touch to a minor role, as did Juanita Wright Fletcher as the cute little "Ethel Deane," later to be known as the cook's helper. And you don't know how attractive the girls all looked in their pretty smocks and white skirts, even Lottie with her lace collar on backward.

Anyone seeing the work of H. B. Van Dien as "John Rawson," wealthy mine owner, and A. W. Branch as George Wimbledon, owner of the Long Island estate, would scarcely believe they were each making their debut in theatricals, private or otherwise. But such was the case, although each handled his part with the ease of an old-time "barnstormer."

The former, taking the masculine lead opposite Mrs. Shafer, offered an excellent interpretation to the part, which he played with a strength and reserve unusual in a new player.

The big role among the men was of course that of "George Wimbledon," presented by A. W. Branch. In less skillful hands, the part might easily become offensive. In the hands of Mr. Branch it was hilariously funny. Artistic seems an unusual word to apply to scenes of drunkenness. Nevertheless Mr. Branch gave a most artistic and finished performance, worthy of our best inebriates of pre-Volstead days.

Naturally in the title role of Annabelle, one would expect the best available material to be cast. Imagine then the joy of seeing dainty Gladys Shafer with her mass of golden hair as the sprightly and vivacious heroine!

Gladys Shafer, whose "Pierrette" in the fantastic whimsy, "The Maker of Dreams," stamped her as a finished actress and whose gay carelessness in "Annabelle" but heightens that impression, was charming to look at, cleverly natural in her acting and the possessor of a lovely speaking voice which she handled as a musical instrument.

Always in Character H. Milton Daley as "William Gosling," the lawyer, was very much in evidence and, like the others, was constantly and consistently "William Gosling" and never for one moment, H. Milton Daley.

In the minor parts were seen many whose powers of acting have become familiar to us all not only through the channels of the Community Players, but also through high school plays. Do you remember Warren Fletcher and his altogether charming "Laurie" in Community Players' "Little Women?" In "Good Gracious Annabelle" he takes the small part of "Wickham," the house detective, and does it with the finished care that he gave those of far more strength. Stanley Wheelock and George Gering are two others who have been factors in dramatic affairs at the high school. Like Mr. Fletcher, they stepped into smaller roles of "Titcomb," the hotel clerk and "Harry Murchison," and made them a vital and important part of the finished whole.

Glen G. Williams as "Alfred Weatherby" made as effective a chauffeur as "man-about-town" and as for the ubiquitous "Alec," page boy at the hotel, no better "but-ton" could have been selected than young Clair Hansen, who will be seen again in Community plays, we predict.

There is no use telling the amusing story of "Good Gracious Annabelle." With three nights yet to run, and with a large crowd greeting the first performance and telling their friends how excellent it really was, pleasure-loving Santa Ana is going to go and see the unfoldment of the plot for itself.

Innovation Pleases And it will find other interesting and entertaining things as well. For an innovation was introduced last night in the appearance of a group of local artists in between-acts songs. Disdaining the stage which scene-shifters had to themselves, the singers stood at the rear of the auditorium and gave a delightful program.

Among the singers were Hazel Landers Hummel, Leon Echles, Raymond Miles and Stanley Reed. Accompanists were Ione Tunison Peek, Ethel Troxell Thompson and Earl Fraser.

Compositions for two pianos, which Ione Tunison Peek and Mabel Woodworth present so delightfully, were to have been featured but illness of Miss Woodworth made it necessary for them to cancel their plans. Other members of the organization came to the rescue and planned the unusually pleasing program.

When it comes to the directing force of the organization, one of course thinks of Ernest Crozier Phillips, whose "infinite capacity of taking pains," stamps him as a genius of directing. Then he is aided by such competent committee chairmen—Mrs. Marshall Harris, for instance, who, as head of the scenery committee, works indefatigably for success. In the present production Mrs. Harris also acts as chairman of production. Earl Fraser, as music chairman, solves the musical problems that confront them; Mary Harris, library chairman, looks up references, "guards, guides and directs" in all matters pertaining to books and the knowledge they yield.

Publicity is disseminated by Stanley Reed; and F. C. Blauer, on the ways and means committee, gives all the very necessary aid from that source. Costumes are a big factor and with Bertha M. Stein as head of the committee trouble is averted.

For last night's production, all scenery was made by Mrs. Harris and her workers, Mrs. Frank Wollaston, Misses Lillian Pumphrey, Frances Battey, Pearl Camblin, Mary Carroll, Cathleen Carroll, Messrs. Fox and Max Holmes.

Much appreciated courtesies extended the organization were from the Santa Ana Music House for piano and Victrola; the Dalsey Dean Hat Shop for specially designed hats (and oh, the seductive and sophisticated innocence of that black hat worn in the first act by Annabelle!); Laguna Community Players and the Chandler Furniture company for furniture and stage settings.

The play will be repeated to-night, tomorrow night and Thursday night.

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Gloria Swanson, noted film actress, will not contest the suit for divorce brought by her film producer husband, Herbert K. Sornborn, it was indicated today.

Gloria's attorneys will file a default, it is said. Sornborn alleged that Gloria deserted him. This is Gloria's second divorce suit, her first husband, Wallace Beery, having divorced her in 1918 on the same ground.

ROADS MADE OF TIN CANS MAY BE NEXT FOR SANTA ANA

Experiments Conducted at Pasadena Interest Engineer Knox Here

PLAN CHEAP, CLAIM

Highways Constructed Out of 'Goats' Food' Might Be Feasible, View

Tin can pavement as the latest spring style in highway construction has been suggested to W. G. Knox, city engineer, by experiments conducted by a neighboring municipality.

"The cans are 'squashed' by a roller, leaving a layer of three inches of metal, which then is treated with a coating of oil and sand, resulting in a good paved highway," the experimenters' report said.

Pasadena, according to City Manager C. W. Koiner, and W. C. Earle, city engineer, will have a tin can road leading through the Arroyo Seco to the new stadium, where the famous New Year's Day football game is held.

"Other cities have experimented with tin cans as the base for roadways," said Manager Koiner, "and I understand have found the cans make a very good road. It is a cheap way of getting a good road as it only costs the labor of collecting the cans. If our experiments are successful we will probably count on doing considerable paving in the Arroyo with tin cans."

Knox chuckled. City Engineer Knox here looked askance when first tin roads for Santa Ana were suggested to him. "Tin roads! Ha! ha!" chuckled the engineer. But his bump of curiosity overcame the oscillations of his funny bone, and in a more sober voice, he remarked again, "Tin roads! H'm! May be something in it."

This is tin can season, according to Knox. Even the good housewife gets spring fever, he said, and instead of preparing the delectable dishes that keep the breadwinner safely at home during winter months, the good housewife buys the dinner in cans.

"The crop of goat's food, I mean tin cans, should be quite considerable at this time of year," he said, gazing quizzically at the end of his nose. "We might try out this tin road proposition."

"When the cans began to rust, however, their volume would increase," he continued, explaining that the metal in process of decay would occupy more space than when first laid.

"They might cause the road to heave," Knox hazarded. "We have

'RUM HOUND' SADLY SEEKS HOME AS HIS MASTERS IN ARREST

"Boozey" Disconsolate As Deputies Raid Still, Jail Owners

"Boozey" wants a good home. He "lost out" on a domicile the other day when his masters were lodged in the county jail here on charges of violating the Wright act—all because he was recognized and trailed to a gun club near Smeitzler where a still was alleged to have been in operation. "If it hadn't been for those deputy sheriffs," Boozey growled, "I'd still be getting my three squares a day and," with a wink, "a nip or two for an eye-opener and maybe a nightcap."

"But I don't hold it against them," he hastened to bark, lest there be some misunderstanding. "In fact I took quite a liking to them, in spite of their prohibition tendencies, which I assure you, were a sad blow to a Tennessee dog."

Attachment Formed And he did. Scarcely had his masters been lodged in the jail, when he had struck up a friendship with Motorcycle Officer "Hank" Warner and Deputy Ed McClellan. Perhaps it was because they didn't object when he lapped up saucers full of "cawn licker," or perhaps it was intuitive trust.

McClellan brought Boozey to Santa Ana with him, and at intervals the rum hound has been visiting the sheriff's office. In his spare time he has been running about town, looking for a home. "The only officer that I don't like is that health fellow," Boozey said. "I overheard him say that unless I got settled, he'd arrest me for vagrancy, and shoot me."

Drinks Up Evidence Officers had been considering adopting the animal, and training him as a police dog. With his hound characteristics, and his ability to smell hooch for several miles, he should prove valuable, they said.

His desire to drink up all the evidence, however, was against him, and he was refused the position of chief hooch deputy under Sheriff Sam Jernigan.

Meanwhile Boozey, still suffering from a hangover, slunk disconsolately from alley to alley, searching for the home.

"Tell 'em that a home without hooch is better than none at all," were his parting words.

BREACH OF PROMISE CASE ENDS AT ALTER

AUGUSTA, Me., April 17. — A breach of promise case scheduled in Kennebec Superior court here ended when the defendant agreed to marry the plaintiff, Bessie S. ## COX PIKER AS S. A. MAN BACK FROM CHINA FOR VISIT

Observatory Chief During Visit to Justice Admits Bebe His Affinity

When it comes to judging speed, Justice J. B. Cox is a piker, according to Edgar Lucien Larkin, veteran astronomer and director of the observatory at the summit of Mount Lowe.

Larkin came to town to see Justice Cox, and told him that in the course of a conversation. Light travels 186,324 miles a second, Larkin explained, and a speed nemesis. So what's a mere 50 miles an hour alongside of that?

Cox was born in the same county in Illinois as that in which Larkin taught astronomy—that was one reason why the savant came to visit the foe of the heavy-footed fraternity.

The other reason was more personal—the astronomer, 76 years of age, confided it to a reporter. He wanted to see the chair that Bebe Daniels, cinema favorite, sat in when she was sentenced to serve ten days in the county jail for speeding.

Admits Bebe His Affinity "Bebe is my affinity," the professor admitted. "Maybe she doesn't know it, but it doesn't take stars to tell me. I'm very fond of her, and it was because of her that I first heard of Judge Cox."

Professor Larkin began his study of astronomy when he was 11 years old, he said. He has studied it ever since, is the author of many books, his articles on the subject have been copied throughout the world, and has written and printed more than 8,000 newspaper articles on astronomy and science, he claimed.

Yet after all that time and study, I know less about the stars than Judge Cox does about speeders," he vouchsafed.

The justice himself threatened to become a student of astronomy, following his conversation with Larkin. He asked many questions and promised to visit the observatory on Mount Lowe to obtain a real idea of speed.

Gives Staggering Figures Larkin told him that it was 25,500,000,000,000 miles to Alpha Centauri, the nearest star. Light, travelling at the aforementioned speed, he said, takes 4.35 years to traverse the distance.

Sirius, the next nearest star, is 51,000,000,000 miles distant. Light takes 3.7 years to romp through that amount of space, Larkin told Cox.

"And these stars are infinitesimally near compared to other known stars," he added. Larkin spent the entire day in justice court, listening with evident interest to suits which were tried, and when he left, he received a promise from the speed nemesis of an early visit.

LOAN OF $51 REPAID WITH $950 INTEREST

HORNELL, N. Y., April 17.—Edward Congdon, Erie train dispatcher, has received a draft for $1000 in payment of a loan of $51 in 1912. Congdon and Jake Griffin of Omaha had been friends in Japan. They met later in San Francisco, where Griffin was broke.

Congdon bought him a ticket to Omaha and gave him money besides. Griffin promised to repay. Congdon got a letter from an Omaha lawyer saying $1,000 had been deposited to his credit by Griffin.

HUNDREDS EAGER TO HEAR PHILHARMONIC ORCHESTRA CONCERT

City's Music Lovers Prepare to Attend Brilliant Event

Hundreds of music lovers of this city today were in a delighted fever of anticipation over the appearance here tomorrow of the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra, whose two concerts, to be given at the high school auditorium, are regarded as among the outstanding features of the Santa Ana Musical association's winter concert course.

In the afternoon the famous orchestra will give a concert for the high school students and faculty alone, it was stated. In the evening it will give a concert for the general public.

"It is certain that attendance at both these concerts will be large," said Clarence Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical association.

Predicts Fine Concert "Santa Anans who are interested in music have never forgotten the brilliancy of the concert given by the noted organization on former visits here," he continued. "It is safe to say that the two concerts to be given here tomorrow will be even better."

The afternoon program includes the Tschalkowsky "Nutcracker" Suite, one of the most popular suites ever written. This will be followed by a group of brilliant numbers, (a) Prælude (Jarnfeldt) (b) Pizzicato Polka from "Sylvia" (Delibes) (c) Mariouettes from "Scenes de Ballet" (Glazounov) The Bizet Carmen Suite No. 1, and the "William Tell" overture (Rossini) completes the program.

For the evening concert Conductor Walter Henry Rothwell will offer an exceptional program, with two soloists taking part. The concert will open with the beautiful Oriental Suite, "Scheherazade" (Rimsky-Korskov) from the "One Thousand and One Tales" of Sinbad.

Will Close S. A. Season The Prelude to "Le Deluge" (Saint-Saens), with violin solo by Sylvain Noack, first violinist and concert master of the orchestra, and Massenet's Invocation from "Les Erinnyes" with cello solo by Ilya Bronson, cello soloist of the orchestra, will prove two outstanding features of the selections, the program concluding with the "Tanhauser" overture (Wagner).

"This great musical event will prove a fitting finale to the splendid season of music offered to our city this year and Santa Ana should feel proud of its fine progress in a cultural way that is keeping abreast with its commercial progress," said Gustlin.

VAGRANT CONVICTED

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 17.—W. G. Wilson, arrested some time ago on the charge of vagrancy until more evidence could be secured, but alleged to have been engaged in an attempt to blackmail Doctor Watson, of this city, was tried on the charge by the county court and found guilty and sentenced to seventy-five days in the county jail. The case came to the attention of the public several weeks ago when Doctor Watson assaulted Police Judge Mullen, and attorney connected with the case and who wrote out the formal complaints against Doctor Watson and one Reiland, of Wood River. The outcome is regarded as a complete clearance of Dr. Watson and of Mr. Reiland and it is unlikely that any further steps will be taken in the case other than the trial and conviction of Wilson.

DECKS CLEARED FOR DIVORCE CASE TRIAL

Details of a lively domestic mix-up are scheduled to be revealed Thursday when the divorce suit of Jane Smith against John D. Smith is tried in department 1 of the superior court before Attorney W. F. Menton, judge pro tem in the absence of Superior Judge Z. B. West.

Jane Smith, in her suit, filed last August, asserted that her husband was continually and unjustly accusing her of unfaithfulness. On one occasion, he came home, and found an insurance agent, who, she claims, was collecting payments on a policy, there. At that time the husband fired a shot from a revolver at the agent, she declared.

On other occasions, he choked her, and frequently he opened her mail, in an effort to discover the names of men with whom he was said to have believed her familiar. In his answer, filed a short time after the suit, Smith declared that he had followed her for the purpose of discovering the identity of men with whom she was said to have been unduly friendly.

Regarding the shooting incident, he said, he came home and found the agent, Floyd Riley, in a compromising position with his wife, and to emphasize his orders, he fired a shot into the air.

Smith named several other men as correspondents in his answer, declaring that his wife had been seen with them frequently. The couple were married October, 1910, in San Bernardino, the records showed. They were living at Piacenta when the suit was filed.

Attorneys Bishop and Wellington, for Smith, and Ames and McFadden for Mrs. Smith, by stipulation, agreed to have Menton sit as judge.

FAITH VICTOR IS SHOWN AS DOLLAR BILL DRIVE NETS $60,000

Santa Anans Who Responded to Unique Appeal Get Letters of Thanks

CYNICS ARE ROUTED

Notes of Friendly Gratitude Add New Link to Splendid Chain

BY ELEANOR ELLIOTT.

When innumerable Santa Anans today examined their mail and found, among their letters, one written on the letterhead of the Orthopaedic Hospital Foundation of Los Angeles, thanking them in a courteous intimate manner for donations to their recent "dollar bill drive," they scarcely realized that theirs had been the unusual experience of establishing a "triumph of faith over experience."

Last December, F. G. Calkins, one of the officers of the foundation, with a faith in humanity's inherent honesty which his fellows felt might not be justified, at donated $1000 in one-dollar bills to the cause with the proviso that the bills should be mailed to names and addresses selected indiscriminately, with a letter stating the recipient should be guided by his conscience alone as to whether he should keep the dollar or return it, and if the latter, if he should add another to it for company.

Cynics Rout. Cynical comments from his fellow workers on the Foundation met Mr. Calkins' plan. It was said. But all such comments were rendered ridiculous when the envelopes began to return, for it was shown that for that first thousand sent out, 950 bills were returned and half of these, or 475, with "interest."

"Do you think one could resist an appeal for help for those little crippled children when presented in that manner?" today asked a prominent Santa Ana business man as he gazed reflectively at the letter of appreciation. "I've always known the existence of such a thing, but the thought of offering a little aid to it hadn't occurred to me. It isn't much I can do, but one thing is certain, my first response to the letter isn't going to be my last."

Response Justifies Faith. And perhaps that is one of the greatest values of the plan. Men have their faith in man, justified. And the response to the unusual little appeal has justified that faith. The letter of friendly gratitude but adds another link to a splendid chain—a chain which binds the hearts and minds of literally thousands of Southern Californians to the little people of the Orthopaedic Foundation who will benefit directly by the gifts, small in individual donations but huge in the aggregate.

For the success of that first lot of bills was so pronounced that the little green messengers have been sent forth time and again until after all expenses of stationery, stamps and kindred matters, were deducted, the Foundation profited by the sum of $60,000.

It was declared that the letters accompanying the returned bills

PICK SITE FOR NEW PARISH CHURCH

The new church of St. Ann's Catholic parish will be situated on the northwest corner of South Main street and Borchard avenue, in Wilshire Square, the Rev. Father W. F. Verhalen, priest of the new parish, announced today. The site was selected by the Rt. Rev. Bishop John J. Cantwell.

The church has acquired six lots in the tract, with a frontage of 135 feet on South Main street and extending through to Sycamore street.

The site is a short distance south of the site selected for the proposed junior high school at the corner of South Main street and Fairview avenue.

The Rev. Father Verhalen announced that he contemplated calling in the immediate future a meeting of men of the congregation to discuss the raising of a fund for the erection of a new church edifice on the site.

Considerable money already has been pledged for the new church plant, he said.

The priest has rented a house at 915 South Ross street and will occupy it until such time as a priest house is erected on the new site.

For the present mass will be held every Sunday at 9 a. m. at 5:30 South Ross street. There will be but one service.

HEIRESS LOSES IN STRUGGLE OF HEARTS

Pleading guilty, and receiving a two-year probation term on bad check charges, R. Francis Collins, who was wed to Miss Dorothy Martinez in Santa Ana by Justice J. B. Cox, walked from the court room to the place where his two asserted wives awaited him with open arms, according to word received here today from San Bernardino.

He chose between them; on one hand there was pretty little Collins, 20, wife No. 1; on the other there was Miss Martinez, also comely, wife No. 2.

With scarcely any hesitation, he ignored the Spanish girl, and flew to the waiting arms of his first wife.

Miss Martinez was calm and resigned.

"It's the hardest thing in the world for me to do," she said, falteringly, and with a catch in her voice, "but if he loves you more than he does me, I am willing."

"I will never give him up," cried wife No. 1. "I had him first, and he is mine."

And Collins and his first love walked away, locked in tender embrace. No. 2 is going back to her father, a wealthy Arlington rancher, to try to forget.

Collins was arrested on bad check charges, while he and Miss Martinez were on a honeymoon at Ontario. Subsequently he made good the checks for $490, and his probation plea was granted.

A bigamy charge preferred against him by wife No. 1, was also dismissed by the district attorney, it was said.

PHILADELPHIA, April 17.—Society confinement in the penitentiary for not less than six nor more than ten years was the sentence given yesterday to Henry G. Brock, wealthy Philadelphia clubman, for killing three persons with his automobile while he was intoxicated, and speeding away.

"The very worst punishment this man can suffer is the constant thought he has snuffed out three lives," said Judge Charles V. Audenried, before sentencing the prisoner.

Brock's automobile killed Mrs. Allan O'Donnell, her son Leo and Miss Mary Murphy, a friend of the O'Donnells, late on the night of March 2, as they alighted from a trolley car.

Brock publicly admitted his responsibility in court and pleaded guilty in the second degree.

While Santa Anans are indulging in new spring clothes, with the latest cuts in coats, stylish dresses, hats of the mode, and other items of dress, Russian college students and their professors are piecing out their last year's suits with gunny sacks, according to information received here by S. H. Finley, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

"Y. M. C. A. units throughout the country," Finley said, "have been asked to contribute clothes to the Russians. Their need is dire, we are told."

"Committees have been appointed by the S. A. Y. to collect clothes from Santa Anans who hear the call and are willing to help a good cause."

What a suit of clothes may accomplish in Russia today is shown in a letter from a Russian college student. He wrote:

"Dear Friends:
"I am writing to you in order to thank you for the great help you have rendered me by granting your gift, and tell you what this present proved to one whose economic situation was really terrible. I got a coat, boots and some linen; I really have no words to express my deepest thanks to you dear friends and the feeling I have towards you. I feel that the great distance that separated us has suddenly become small and you have become quite near to me."

"Notwithstanding our cold winters, I have gone through them shivering in my soldier's shawl, which was worn out during the war as well as work in the port. There was practically nothing left of the coat at all. My boots were in the same poor state, having been repaired with string and wire. Linen I had none except the sacks I turned into shirts."

"I have made many attempts to buy something more decent, but there is no money. All my savings were figured in a few millions, whereas the cost of a coat figured in a few hundreds of millions. Saving was useless as there is no possibility of keeping pace with the rise of prices and the rapid fall of the rouble."

"Besides an economic help this gift has given me a moral help for you will quite well understand the feeling of a person that is accustomed to change his linen, was obliged to go about in old ragged clothes. My spirits have revived again and I wish to thank you once more and give you a hearty shake hands."

MANY SEE NEW Y. W. C. A. HUT AT OPENING

Hundreds of parents and friends of the girls at the Santa Ana high school and junior college were today expressing their approval and satisfaction with the new Y. W. C. A. and girls' activity hut at the high school, which was formally opened last night.

Members of the Y. W. C. A. and the Girls' league acted as hostesses and conducted the guests about the building explaining to them the uses to be made of the hut.

A reception committee made up of representatives of the building and finance committees, the cabinets of the two organizations and school heads welcomed the guests as they entered the building. Those on this committee were Miss Edith Plavan, president of the Y. W. C. A.; Miss Kathleen Trago, president of the Girls' league; Mrs. Robert Northcross, dean of women in the junior college; D. K. Hammond, principal of the high school; F. L. Andrews, secretary of the board of education; Miss Isabel Anderson, director of the Y. W. C. A. and Girls' league advisor; T. E. Stephenson and W. B. Williams, of the building committee, and Mrs. W. B. Tedford, of the finance committee.

Committees Assist.
Miss Wilma Plavan, as chairman of the student reception committee, was assisted by committees from the "Y" and from the Girls' league.

Miss Alice Mateer, chairman of the decoration committee, had arranged flowers in the hut until it was a bower of fragrance and color. Miss Persana Deimling was in charge of the serving of tea, sandwiches and cakes to the guests. She was assisted by Mrs. John N. Anderson and Mrs. W. M. Sammis, who presided at the tea table, and by the Misses Marjorie Rawlings and Marjorie Tubbs.

The faculty of the high school presented a huge basket of flowers, a bowl of flowers and wicker service trays. A friend of the girls, who had been at the dedication on Sunday, sent the beginning of the kitchen furnishings in his gift of three dozen tea cups and saucers. Miss Evelina Nunn loaned two of her loveliest paintings. Mrs. E. T. Mateer sent a basket of pink roses, and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank and Mrs. V. Tubbs and Mrs. E. M. Nealey sent in flowers which were arranged in big wicker baskets.

During the evening, Russell Rowland, a high school student, played piano selections and Jack Langley and Leon Gardner, also from the high school, played violin numbers.

The surprise of the evening and a most appropriate and pleasing part of the affair was the little talk given by Miss Edith Plavan, in which she thanked the persons who had contributed by their financial gifts, their work and personal interest to the completion of the hut. Cutting the wires of a picture hanging on the wall, Miss Plavan unveiled a beautiful little bronze tablet.

"This little tablet is the way in which the girls of the school have wished to make a lasting token of their appreciation to Miss Jennie B. Lasby, whose idea the hut was in the beginning and whose unceasing effort has made it possible," Miss Plavan said.

HIT BY TRAIN
ROSEMONT, Neb., April 17.—Emil Sacke, farmer, four miles west of here, between Rosemont and Blue Hill, was badly bruised and cut, and narrowly escaped death, when he ran his car upon the tracks in front of a Burlington freight which was coming into town. The car, headed south, was struck by the train back of the driver's seat, carried down the track several feet, and was turned completely around, headed north, when the train stopped. The rear wheels and fenders were broken off. Mr. Sacke held to the steering wheel and remained in the car.

BOY WOUNDED
BEACH, N. D., April 17.—Eugene, 13 year old son of Al Welch, a farmer, is in a hospital with a badly torn leg as the result of the accidental discharge of a shotgun. The weapon was discharged as he crawled under a fence. The buckshot tore through the muscles of the leg from just below the knee to the ankle.

lots of trouble with roads here laid over adobe.

Might Make Good Cushion.
"The adobe draws and cracks and breaks the pavement. Even though we used a cushion of gravel, time has brought about the same result. Perhaps the tin cans would form a better cushion."

"There would be no danger to automobile tires because the metal is very soft, and in addition the roadway is protected with a coating of oil and sand."

The city engineer was getting enthusiastic, but a shade of gloom came suddenly.

"Trouble would be that in every collection of the glass gathered by the rubbish wagons there always is found some glass. The glass would spoil the whole thing."

Whereat W. G. Knox, city engineer of Santa Ana, resigned himself to allowing Sweet William, the goat, to browse undisturbed on the animal's favorite diet—tin cans.

were extremely interesting as studies in human nature. For many persons took the opportunity to wax facetious, sarcastic or prayerful.

Man Changes His Mind.
One rather lengthy letter stated that the writer was so overjoyed at the first money ever reaching him in such a manner, that he had tucked it in his pocket and was meaning to use it to supplement the family larder with a nice fat hen for Sunday's dinner. His postscript held the heart of his letter, however, for in it he wrote:

"I am enclosing a check which just triples the value of the paper with a greenback which you sent me. God bless you."

While Santa Anans are indulging in new spring clothes, with the latest cuts in coats, stylish dresses, hats of the mode, and other items of dress, Russian college students and their professors are piecing out their last year's suits with gunny sacks, according to information received here by S. H. Finley, president of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A.

"Y. M. C. A. units throughout the country," Finley said, "have been asked to contribute clothes to the Russians. Their need is dire, we are told."

"Committees have been appointed by the S. A. Y. to collect clothes from Santa Anans who hear the call and are willing to help a good cause."

What a suit of clothes may accomplish in Russia today is shown in a letter from a Russian college student. He wrote:

"Dear Friends:
"I am writing to you in order to thank you for the great help you have rendered me by granting your gift, and tell you what this present proved to one whose economic situation was really terrible. I got a coat, boots and some linen; I really have no words to express my deepest thanks to you dear friends and the feeling I have towards you. I feel that the great distance that separated us has suddenly become small and you have become quite near to me."

"Notwithstanding our cold winters, I have gone through them shivering in my soldier's shawl, which was worn out during the war as well as work in the port. There was practically nothing left of the coat at all. My boots were in the same poor state, having been repaired with string and wire. Linen I had none except the sacks I turned into shirts."

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS

PRINCESS—"Where the Pavement Ends," with Ramon Novarro and Alice Terry.

YOST—Vaudeville and "Notoriety," with Mary Alden.

WEST END—"A Daughter of Luxury," with Agnes Ayres.

TEMPLE—The Santa Ana Community Players' production, "Good Gracious Annabelle."

"NOTORIETY" ON SCREEN

AT YOST TONIGHT

Who is responsible for the divorce cases that crowd the courts and the columns of the daily press? Who is to blame for the love of the limelight that possesses young girls of today? Whose fault is it that the young generation feeds on sensationalism and demands continual novelty—in dress, dances, and diversions?

We ourselves are to blame—is the answer of Director Will Nigh's latest screen production, "Notoriety," which is scheduled to open at the Yost theater tonight. "Young folks of today are over-anxious to attract attention, and are too eager to applaud everyone else that manages to catch the public eye," said Nigh. "They worship the divorcee who succeeds in breaking out in print. They pay homage to any fanatic of a new-fangled idea. To quote one of the stirring titles in the film: 'The public demands the latest sensation over the breakfast table.'"

AGNES AYRES SCORES IN WEST END FILM.

Burglar insurance fraud is vividly illustrated in "A Daughter of Luxury," the picture starring Agnes Ayres, which is now showing at the West End theater.

The evening before the Walford safe was robbed, Mrs. Walford wore her jewels to the opera. Her husband, Loftus Walford, suggested that he could raise enough on the diamonds to carry him through a big deal on which his fortune depended. But Mrs. Walford replies wisely: "A diamond in the hair is worth two of your deals in the air."

Mrs. Walford may have been right, but she didn't figure on one of his deals in the dark. Walford pulled one of the latter, and the jewels disappeared. At the same time Mary Fenton (Agnes Ayres), who is forced to pose temporarily as the wealthy Mary Cosgrove, is a guest of the Walfords. The real heiress learns she is being impersonated and takes action. There results a whole of a scene, and Mary is suspected of being implicated in the burglary. But Mary soon finds a chance to take the wheel so to speak, and brings the situation to a happy standstill.

Miss Ayres has splendid support in the work of such players as Tom Gallery, Edward Martindel, Sylvia Ashton, Clarence Burton, Zasu Pitts and Robert Schable.

BARREL IS LATEST FOR PRETTY GOLFERS

NEW YORK, April 17.—The latest in golf togs—a natty barrel. This fashion hint was furnished today by Miss Shirley Vernon, a Follies beauty, who played "strip golf" with Miss Nellie Savage, another Follies girl, at the Sound View Golf Club. In "strip golf" as in "strip poker," the players must remove one article of clothing for every point lost. It was at the seventeenth hole that Ring Lardner, a judge of the match between the two girls, in desperation showed a barrel at Miss Vernon, which she gratefully received.

But at the eighteenth hole, when she lost another point—that was where Miss Vernon violated the rules of the game and fled over the green as fast as her barrel-hampered legs would carry her.

At the beginning of the game, Miss Vernon cheerfully and nonchalantly removed her hat, then her coat, then a tie. Then she began to get a little worried. Another point lost forced her to remove her blouse. There were horrified gasps from the porch of the clubhouse, where respectable dowagers watched the swift game between the rival beauties. Two more points lost, and Miss Vernon was without shoes or stockings. Then she lost her skirt. By this time the game began to get good, and by the time the seventeenth hole was reached, the loser was in decided deshabille.

A scene from "Notoriety," screen attraction at the Yost theater tonight.

"WHERE PAVEMENT ENDS" AT PRINCESS TONIGHT.

The courage to do something different is reserved for very few in the photoplay, but Rex Ingram's right to be numbered among these is amply disclosed in "Where the Pavement Ends," his latest picture which opens a two-day showing at the Princess theater today.

The story has already been widely heralded. So has the impress evoked by the new Ingram star, Ramon Novarro. The locale of the film, simply exudes romance, and the actual settings that were picked to back up the drama are said to drench one with the charms of exotic.

In the lush and luxuriant natural scenes transpires the love story of a missionary's daughter and a native of the South Seas.

Poignant poetry pervades the love scenes of the picture, even as a crude and even at times half-boisterous realism runs through the depicting of the life of the natives and their sordid lives. The opening scenes take one back to "The Four Horsemen" but the actual drama of the romance is much stronger and more continuous in feeling.

Both Alice Terry and Ramon Novarro in the leading romantic roles accomplish and remarkable variety in expressiveness. Novarro seems to have found a part that fits him perfectly and plays it with the rarest feeling. Miss Terry brings loveliness and a remarkable sincerity to the portrayal of the heroine, Harry Hove, as the tyrant trader gives a compelling character—one that will give him impetus to his career. Edward Connelly is also successful as the missionary.

There will be matinees each day at 1:30 and 3:15 o'clock with two shows each evening at 6:30 and 8:45 o'clock.

NO TAXES PAID ON PROPERTY DEEDED GOD IN GRATITUDE

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., April 17.—A mighty peculiar tax tangle exists in Celestria township, Sullivan county, about 80 miles from here.

Four acres of land in that township was deeded to God Almighty by Mr. and Mrs. Peter El. Armstrong in gratitude for the "loving care and numerous blessings" He had shown them.

Although the deed was recorded in 1864 and no taxes have been paid on it in all these years, the authorities have never felt like moving against such sanctified property. However, it is believed that the title to the land has already automatically passed to the Commonwealth, and some action may be taken shortly, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong in making their unusual bequest were evidently actuated by a deep and abiding faith and a genuine gratitude for the blessings bestowed on them, according to the old deed.

The deed states that being fully impressed by the Holy Word that God's children should not claim to hold property of any kind as individuals, but that they should consecrate unto God all things, the land is "freely given to God to be redeemed to the second coming of Christ."

BANQUET PLANS DRAFTED BY HI Y CLUB

Announcements of "mother and son" banquets, pledges of clothing for needy Russian college students, and a demonstration of an initiatory ceremony were features of the Orange county Hi Y dinner held at the First Christian church Community House here last night.

Delegations of high school boys, members of the "Y" clubs, who attended, included representatives from Fullerton, Anaheim, Tustin and Santa Ana.

The "Service Cup" presented by the Fullerton Hi Y for competition among the clubs was awarded back to the Fullerton club by George Chessum, county secretary.

"During the past few months," Chessum said, "that the cup has been up for competition, Fullerton has continued its customary program of community, school and individual service."

L. C. Hollister, student secretary of the Chicago Y. M. C. A., was the speaker of the evening. He dwelt at length on religion and the boy.

Chong Kong, Hawaiian, and A. J. Raitt, secretary of the Fullerton "Y," who played a string duet, were the only performers to receive an encore. Chong's ability on the steel guitar has won him a regular place on Hi Y entertainment programs.

Warren Ashley, new secretary of the Anaheim Y, led the singing. The women of the First Christian church were to be thanked for the dinner, according to T. P. McKee, community secretary of the S. A. Y.

Plans were outlined for the annual meet to be held May 12, Chessum said.

The Fullerton Hi Y club gave the demonstration of a suggested Hi Y initiatory ritual.

CLAIM GAS RANGE BEST FOR COOKIES

"Weary mothers, mixing dough, don't you wish that food would grow?"

Weary mothers, bending tired backs to peer into the dim recesses of a low oven, are the ones who sigh for a cookie bush. Mixing the dough, even rolling it out, is no trick at all, but many a cook has wished that cookies might be eaten raw.

Cookies are the hardest things in the world to bake, it was pointed out here today. Even a tiny bit of dough makes an endless procession of cookies, thin rounds of dough which must be baked quickly, yet not too rapidly, and which have an almost uncanny tendency to burn, around the edges.

But children everywhere, and grown-up children as well, beg for cookies, real home-made ones, warm, spiky ginger snaps, and crisp sugar cookies with plump raisins embedded into their sugary surfaces. It is the wise mother who pleases the family and aids her own comfort in planning for cookie making.

A gas range with an elevated oven seems almost designed for baking cookies. The big pans slip in so easily, and the tire-some stooping and bending is done away with. The ease with which the heat may be adjusted for perfect baking, as well as the even distribution of heat for perfect browning, are just added reasons why a gas range is a perfect cookie baker.

EXTENSION FOR WATER SYSTEM IS PLANNED

COSTA MESA, April 17.—Extensive improvements in the water distributing system of the Newport Heights irrigation district have been made necessary by the rapid growth of the community and the development of the lands in this district, according to Corinn L. Quinn, secretary of the district, who today announced that bids would be opened at the local school house at 4 o'clock tomorrow for approximately $160,000 worth of work, including a new distributing system, standpipes and reservoir.

According to Secretary Quinn, the present system is more than twenty years old and is wholly inadequate for the large amount of new acreage now served by the project.

The old system was installed by the Townsend company, who originally laid out the sub-division. The new system will also provide water for domestic use and will be ample for many years to come. Paul Kressly, city engineer of Newport Beach, is engineer for the Heights district. George A. Waterman is chairman of the board of directors and J. B. Clegg, with Mrs. Quinn are the other two. All were re-elected last February.

YOUNGER ARTISTS AT LAGUNA SHINE

LAGUNA BEACH, April 17.—Laguna's younger generation is very apparently living up to the traditions of the community, which decrees that, to really "belong," one must be proficient in one or more of the fine arts.

There are many budding young painters to carry on the profession that made Laguna famous. Among the followers of Terpel-chore are Thelma Farman, Margaret Sangster, Doris Messinger and Victor Rankin, the latter a singer as well as a dancer.

Two of the youngest musicians in town are Virginia and Doris Thurston, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thurston.

Friday night another feather was added to the cap of Laguna, by John Rust for his splendid interpretation of the part of "Lord Craven" in "The Gipsy Rover," the musical comedy presented by the Tustin Union high school.

The whole cast and the orchestra did excellent work and the chorus was exceptionally good, not only their singing, but in their costumes as well.

Laguna was represented in the cast by Fidelity Riley and John Rust, and among the ushers by Katherine Isch.

MUST SECURE HUSBAND
CHICAGO, April 17.—A 19-year-old Chicago girl must procure a husband within a year to claim a $500,000 legacy, and has gone to London to find one. Possibly the cake-eater type doesn't interest her. If she is still single on her twentieth birthday she will forfeit the fortune. Why not let it go at that, let nature take its course, and wait for the right man to come along? Grief over another daughter's love affair is said to have prompted the framing of this freak will by the young woman's father. Her mother would have found a clever way of managing it.

ANNOUNCE PAIRINGS IN COUNTRY CLUB'S CHAMPIONSHIP PLAY

Pairings for the first flight of the Orange County Country club golf championship to be played over the local course next Saturday and Sunday, were announced today by C. G. Twist, president.

The matches will be played as follows: F. B. Browning vs. J. F. Parsons; L. H. Robinson vs. L. L. Carden; Winto Hoyle vs. Dr. M. A. Patton; George Jeffrey vs. E. J. Chambers; H. B. Van Dien vs. L. M. Forney; R. E. Reid vs. Z. B. West Jr.; A. W. Ruten vs. J. W. Tubbs; E. Farnsworth vs. N. Hoyle.

The contests in this flight are to be played on handicap, three-fourths of the difference in strokes to be taken, according to where they are placed on the score cards.

BEACH COUNCIL OPENS WAR ON GOAT FARMS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, April 17.—If an ordinance adopted last night by the city trustees has the desired effect Huntington Beach will not be known as a city of goats as some councilmen now claim it threatens to be.

This was indicated when the trustees passed an ordinance setting two goats on one lot as the limit, otherwise the owner will be adjudged to be running a stock farm or slaughter house and must remove his enterprise to a more appropriate location. Likewise only two cows will be allowed, two horses and fifty chickens.

The state railroad commission notified the trustees that a hearing would be held in the city hall May 3 on the request of the Huntington Beach Telephone company for an increase in rates and at that time the trustees decided that representatives of the city would be present to oppose the granting of the request on the ground that telephone service here is not what it might be.

The Christian Science society of Huntington Beach was given permission to stage a lecture in the new city auditorium June 29. Friday morning the trustees will go on a tour of Orange county to inspect Warrenton paving and Monday a large oil company will conduct them over asphalt roads with a view of having the trustees select that variety for the improvement of Ocean avenue.

A board of appraisers, Thomas Berry, engineer; J. K. McDonald, realtor; W. H. Taylor, oil man; was named to set values on city property for taxation purposes.

It was decided to keep the fire truck within the city limits hereafter and not send it into the oil fields. Jack Tinsley, chief of police, asked for a ruling on the point. He also asked for the appointment of Ray Bradford as motorcycle officer and the request was granted.

The Pacific Electric railroad notified the trustees that no more loaded oil tankers will be parked down town between Third and Sixth streets. An electric wire recently fell on a loaded car and caused a small explosion.

The Sure Shot oil company will at once clean up the debris left from the first at the well of the firm, officials said in a letter to the trustees.

A small eating establishment which occupied city property at the corner of Fourth and Main streets was ordered moved back on private land. Two women are operating the place, it was said. A small child kitchen, at present unoccupied, was also condemned by the trustees.

The building ordinance was further amended and passed.

Heavy traffic will be diverted from Seventeenth street to Lake street.

BOLSA

BOLSA, April 17.—April 16 was Mrs. Shutt's birthday anniversary, it formed the incentive for several surprises. First her daughter and son-in-law, Mrs. and Mr. E. A. Gardner, took Mr. and Mrs. Shutt for a long and pleasant motor drive. On their return she was piloted to the E. A. Gardner home, where she found the dining room beautifully decorated with carnations, sweet peas, and lilacs, and the table groaning with chicken served various ways and all other good things that form a perfect chicken dinner.

Little Myrtle Gardner, one of the granddaughters, met her grandmother with a shower of many pretty and useful presents and last but not least, a beautiful white and pink birthday cake, covered with lighted candles, was presented to the honoree. Covers were laid for the following guests: Mrs. Sarah Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Gardner, Beesie, Margaret, Myrtle and Dorothy Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. John Shutt, Jr. and Flossie Draper of Santa Ana, E. G. Radford, Lucile, Esther and Thomas Radford, Mr. John Shutt sr. and the honoree.

Lee Ross, who has been sick several weeks is improving, but is still under the doctor's care.

Little Audrey and Cecil Combs were spending several days with their father and grandmother Combs at Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Richardson and son Darroly were dinner guests at the Ralph Ross home Sunday.

Miss Lucile and Esther Radford attended the track meet at San Fernando Saturday.

Mr. E. A. Gardner is having the Pimenes planted on his home ranch this week.

ORANGE LEGION MEN SEEKING MEMBERS

ORANGE, April 17.—Following an enthusiastic meeting held here last night, team captains representing the Orange Post of the American Legion today were actively engaged in soliciting new members.

Before the drive is over it is expected that this post, headed by Commander C. B. Potter, will have a membership of between 200 and 250.

Representatives of the Santa Ana Post, appearing before the Orange post on behalf of Auto Resurrection day, to be staged in Santa Ana Saturday, May 5, were warmly received by Commander Potter and the post comrades.

Endorse Resurrection, explaining the Auto Resurrection project to the members of the Orange post, said that Eddie Pullen, famous racing driver, will act as starter, calling particular attention to the ten-mile "Petroleum Special," for women drivers, invited the ladies of the Auxiliary to enter a car, and asked the active cooperation of all the posts in the county in assisting the Santa Ana post in making Auto Resurrection day a pronounced success. The Orange post unanimously endorsed the project and promised active cooperation.

At last night's organization meeting it was explained by Commander Potter, past Commander William O. Hart and other Legionnaires, that this is the first membership drive ever staged by the local post. Every man on the many teams was asked to do his utmost to bring the membership up to 200 by Thursday, when the drive closes.

Must Pull Together.
"In going after new members," said Commander Hart, addressing the team captains, "it is imperative to tell them that you believe in the American Legion, its principles and its future. Tell every former soldier that he owes it to himself and to his family and the nation to affiliate himself with an organization that has done so very much for our country. We want Orange Post No. 13 to be one of the best posts in California. We make it so, we must pull together and work for the common cause."

Reports of the various teams will be made at the regular meeting of the post, to be held in Legion Hall, here, Thursday night. The post, with one of the hand-somest clubrooms in the Southland, is proud of its record in staging dinners and entertainments. The clubroom contains a photograph gallery showing the portrait of virtually every member of the post, including photographs of four "gold star" men who sacrificed all for their country.

The post is now busily engaged in making preliminary plans for the great parade to be given here when the American day ceremonies are held next fall. Historical pageantry will be featured.

LAGUNA IS VISITED BY SCHOOL SENIORS

LAGUNA BEACH, April 17.—Monday was Senior day at the Excelsior Union high school and about thirty students came down to Laguna for the day.

They made the Charles Gahr cottage their headquarters and spent the day in swimming and various other sports on the beach.

Among the students were the Misses Margaret and Georgia Gahr and Miss Fay Norton, granddaughter of Mrs. Harriet Norton, and niece of Laguna's postmaster.

The company of motion picture players from the Robert Cole studio that has been working here for nearly a week, returned to Los Angeles Saturday evening.

Mal St. Claire, the director, says that they will work in the studio for a while now, but that he expects to bring the company back to the Laguna location later.

The ram, one of the properties of the "Fighting Blood" picture, the green pastures of Laguna under protest.

He has spent the greater part of the time here, grazing in the wild oats on Goff Island Point, and Saturday evening his plaintive "Baa aas" could be heard, growing fainter and fainter as the property wagon carried him away, up Laguna canyon, back to the workaday life of Hollywood.

LAGUNA BEACH

Miss Florence Yoch was down from Pasadena Saturday for a few hours.

Miss Jessie Washburn has been in Los Angeles for a few days, but is back in her Arts and Crafts shop this week.

Sen. and Mrs. Brown, Hale Brown and a party of friends were down at their Arch Beach cottage over Sunday.

Donald Hannaford of Earle Rock and his cousin, Mr. Mason, of Los Angeles, were the guests of Van B. Altman over the weekend.

Dr. and Mrs. Rowland Yeagle, Mr. and Mrs. Z. T. Douglas, Miss Edie Douglas and Eugene Douglas of Santa Ana were in Laguna Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bayley of "The Gift Shop," Pasadena, spent from Thursday to Sunday at their Arch Beach cottage.

Conway Griffith is spending a week with Mrs. Harriet Norton and the Misses Mary and Helen Norton at their Riverside home.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF LONG BEACH COUPLE DRAWS MANY FRIENDS

GARDEN GROVE, April 17.—A large number of local people together with others from Anaheim, Santa Ana, Westminster, attended the celebration in Long Beach this week of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson A. Young, who formerly lived on a farm near here.

Their two children, Mrs. Edith Lane, Mesa, Ariz., and Edward Young, of Eureka, Colo., both being unable to be here, all the plans were made by their neighbors.

As the guests arrived the pretty little home in which the Youngs have resided for the past thirteen years became a bower of golden hued blossoms. Other lovely gifts were also appropriate to the occasion. A musical program added charm, and tea and cakes were served by neighbor friends. A beautifully decorated bride's cake was cut for the bride of half a century ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Young were married in Perry county, Ill., in 1873. Two years later they came to California and settled on a farm at Garden Grove. Happy vacation days were often spent on the long stretch of sand which the city of Long Beach now overlooks, but in those days there were only the tents of the campers.

TO OPEN BIDS FOR SCHOOL AT NEWPORT

NEWPORT BEACH, April 17.—Bids are to be opened this week by the Newport Beach grammar school board of trustees for the construction of the new auditorium which is to be erected just west of present building. According to the plans drawn by Architect Theo C. Kistner of Santa Ana the building will cost in the neighborhood of $60,000.

The new auditorium will seat 600 people whereas only 250 can be accommodated in the present auditorium constructed in 1912. According to H. O. Ensign, superintendent of the grammar school here, construction of the building will start within two weeks after the bid has been accepted.

Mr. Ensign explained that with the completion of the public improvements now under way here that the school enrollment is greatly to be increased and that more room will be necessary for the accommodation of grammar school pupils. At the present time there are 250 enrolled and the graduating class from the grammar school this year will number thirty six pupils.

JEWELRY STOLEN FROM ORANGE HOME

ORANGE, April 17.—Two robberies in which wearing apparel and trinkets, including jewelry, belonging to a tiny babe, comprised the principal booty were perpetrated in this city and Olive last night. A passkey burglar entered the home of Albert Armstrong at 456 North Shaffer street during the absence of the family, and after ransacking the bedroom, departed with scores of articles valued mostly as keepsakes.

The home of Walter Lieffers at Olive was entered by ripping a screen, then raising the window which was unfastened. The intruder departed with an arm load of wearing apparel valued at $75.

INTERNAL REVENUE CHIEF IS CHAMPION GUESSER OF NATION

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—Washington Treasury officials have issued Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodell as the champion guesser of the United States.

On March 16, the day after the income tax drive, the Treasury Department wired Collector Goodell asking for a report on all income tax receipts that had been deposited in bank and also an estimate on the amount of money on hand in the unopened mail.

It was easy for the collector to furnish figures on the money he had deposited, but to determine how much money was contained in a ton of unopened mail was another thing. However, by a method all his own, Collector Goodell decided there was $5,225,000 in the unopened mail. So he wired Washington that the total income tax receipts for the first quarter would be $13,055,000, as against $10,802,507 for the same period of 1922.

Yesterday the last of the ton of mail was opened, and listed, and the final check of the receipts for the quarter showed a total of $13,062,346.62, as compared with Collector Goodell's estimate of $13,055,000, a difference of only $7,346.62 on a thirteen million dollar turnover.

Some guesser is that man Rex Goodell, Washington officials declare.

SEVEN-SCRAP CARD SUITS LOCAL BUGS

Iman Ends Fraining Siege For Main Event Battle With Young George

With seven bouts on the card, all of which took like real battles, and the advance seat sale reported as heavy, indications today were that a banner crowd will be chattering by the time Jack Iman and Young George, middleweights, hop through the ropes and into the Delhi ring tomorrow night.

Iman today was putting the finishing touches on his training siege. The Santa Ana 158-pounder has worked hard for this go with the slugging George and tapered off with a little exercise today. He will enter the arena in perfect condition tomorrow night, his followers claim.

Those who prefer to watch the speedy, scientific boxers should be satisfied with the semi-wind-up affair which will bring Kid Louie, the promising 113-pounder, against Alex McDonald, one of the leading bantamweights in California. McDonald will tangle with Bill Kennedy in the semi-windup go at Vernon tonight but he is a veteran and should be able to stand the gaff of fights on consecutive nights. McDonald will be the best boy Louie has ever faced.

Terry Adams, a willing mixer, is down for the special event with Young Sheller, the pride of San Bernardino. Adams has appeared here several times and has never disappointed the boys in the stands.

Battling Doty will have to be at his best to defeat George Gilmore, the Los Angeles veteran who shows a lot about fighting. Doty didn't appear to be in good condition two weeks ago.

Toby Montoya will step into a little faster company when he mixes with Bud Garber. The latter is the boy who went four fast spasms at Delhi last summer with Kid Louie.

Bobby Herman, a boy who battles the semi-windup at Santa Fe Springs tonight, is matched with Kid Cuba, University of Southern California youngster, in the second round of the evening.

Eddie Doolis, Santa Ana boy, and Joe Burns, Los Angeles, box the curtain raiser.

Hunting in Alaska

(The articles appearing in The Register were written by George Briggs, well known Santa Ana sportsman, while he was on his fifth trip, in 1920, to Alaska.)

I spoke to Billy and dropped the bead on him, but was asked not to shoot as Dickinson couldn't see him. A second later he was ready for the shot, but I couldn't see, so told him not to shoot. A moment later he showed his full bulk to me, a beautiful animal and in such perfect pelage he looked almost black. (There are no black bears on this island, as the browns, so much larger and fiercer, claim it for their own.)

I could not miss at that distance so dropped the gold bead a couple or three inches behind the shoulder and pressed the trigger.

He went down at the shot, but got up and I gave it to him again. Down For Second Time.

Down he went for the second time, but got to his feet again, very much dazed, but a big log, some brush and down timber made it impossible to get in the finishing shot that we both so much wanted to land. Yet, we both felt certain he must collapse. However, he seemed to gain strength for we could follow his movements by the brush without being able to see him.

We were both trying our very best to follow. Here there was no snow (low narrow necks, a rocky island). Tracking was impossible except for a small distance, and, although we put in that day and part of the next we lost, I firmly believe, what would have been a perfect pelt. He was not so large, possibly, as some bear on the island, but a good, big animal.

Hate to Abandon Trail
I never so hated to abandon a trail and was heart broken when I couldn't find him, for both Billy and I felt sure he was dead. Thick as the brush was, however, we might have passed within 10 feet and never have seen him.

We couldn't give him up without another look, and so next day we were back again trying as hard as ever. Near the same place, I being some little distance away from Dickinson, I heard a slight sound in the dense brush, but I couldn't see. However, I waited an instant to hear it repeated when to a very small opening bulked the head and shoulders of a bear, not over 60 yards away.

Why he hadn't heard me I can't tell, but I wasn't long getting into action.

Bags First Bear
This time I chose the short, thick neck and at the report he dropped, tried to raise but couldn't. I gave him another. I then walked into a better position, in front and the only clear space near there but ready for another shot.

The bear wasn't dead. He seemed anxious to raise, but couldn't get up. He was tearing and biting off the brush and earth and making a sound between a growl and a groan. I noted at once that he was only fat pelage, which I much regretted. Billy came over, congratulated me and we sized him up as a good big specimen. He was still growling and I shot him in the head.

Proceed With Autopsy
It was just nine minutes after

NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT SCRAP GETS UNDER WAY; AMERICA N OPENS TOMORROW

BY HENRY L. FARRELL, (United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, April 17.—One-half of the royal family of baseball will go to work this afternoon when the National league starts its 48th season. After the older organization has finished its parading, hand tooting and flag raising, the American league will stage its jump off tomorrow.

Four games are carded on the day's program and favorable weather reported early today probably will not necessitate any postponements.

The world's champion Giants will open against the Braves in Boston; Cincinnati fans will look at two pennant contenders in their own Reds and the St. Louis Cardinals; the Pittsburgh Pirates will help the Cubs open their new ball park and the Brooklyn fans will have to watch the Phils and the Robins.

Plenty of ceremonies will be provided before the umpires let their annual "playball" stir the athletes off the bench. It is only on formal occasions like the opener and the big games of the world's series that the umpires put on their high hats and use the words of the book in getting a game started. For ordinary games the more prosaic "Come on with a batter"—is the approved crack of the whip.

Landis in Boston
Commissioner Landis will be the ranking dignitary at Boston, where Christy Mathewson is to make his debut as a club proxy. John A. Heydler, president of the league, picked Chicago for his place of honor in the new park, which will seat 32,000 fans. Just ordinary club owners, mayors and leading citizens will hold forth at the other parks.

Two of the prize plants from the minors will get their first look at a big city ball crowd. Jimmy O'Connell, $75,000 Giant outfielder, will make his debut with McGraw's champions, and Sands, $50,000 California shortstop, will work in the Philadelphia infield. The Boston Braves also will present a prospective star in "Toekoo" Conlon, former Harvard captain, who will hold down second base for the Braves. Arthur Neft or Hugh McQuillan is expected to get the call for the pitcher's job with the Giants, and Tim McNamara, the Fordham college star, will be sent to the mound by the Braves. Ring or Meadows probably will pitch for the Phils and the veteran "Dutch" Reuther is believed to be sure starter for the Robins.

Every one expects a big season, because baseball has cultivated the habit of drawing each year and the prospects are bright for a great pennant battle between the Giants, Reds, Pirates and Cards.

Clubs in Condition
All of the National league clubs are in good condition to start the race. The Giant pitchers have not developed as far as McGraw would like to have them at this time of the year, but the champions are in good shape otherwise. The Reds are crippled somewhat by the absence of Jake Daubert, but it is believed now that he will be able to get in the game within two weeks. The St. Louis Cardinals have two outfielders, Myers and Flack, laid up with injured legs but it is not serious.

The Giants will come in for a little ceremony in Boston when they are presented with diamond rings, the gift of the club owners for winning the series last fall from the Yanks. Last year the Giants were all given diamond watch fobs.

Only one new managerial face will present itself today and that will be the lantern-jawed visage of Arthur Fletcher, the former Giant star, who will have a Philadelphia cap pulled down over one eye. Fletcher was game enough to take a job that is almost hopeless.

TUSTIN TRACK MEN COMPLETE SEASON

(Special to The Register)

TUSTIN, April 17.—The San Fernando track meet officially closes the track season for Tustin athletes, according to Coach Earl Murray. Lyle Kelly, the only Tustin entrant in the San Fernando meet, took fourth in the high hurdles.

Kelly has proven himself to be among the best athletes in the country, placing fourth in both the hurdles at the tri-county meet, third in the low hurdles at the county meet, and was also high point man for Tustin in a dual meet with Anaheim, scoring 12 points.

Ygenio Jimenez, sophomore, has shown up especially well in the mile, taking third in both the tri-county and in the county meets. No one will be entered from Tustin in the Southern California meet.

With the promise of a trip to San Diego in view, the local baseball team has redoubled its efforts and will do its best to defeat Santa Ana in the league tracas Friday at Tustin. With one game lost, one tied and one won, Coach Murray believes the team yet has a chance to upset some of the dogs.

The protested game with Garden Grove will be replayed April 24, probably on the Santa Ana diamond, according to reports received here today. That time and place is agreeable to both parties.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Relieved of Nervousness and Other Distressing Ailments by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Brooklyn, N. Y. — "I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound four years ago, and am taking it now for the Change of Life and other troubles and I receive great benefit from it. I am willing to let you use my letter as a testimonial because it is the truth. I found your booklet in my letter box and read it carefully, and that is how I came to take the Vegetable Compound myself. It has given me quiet nerves so that I sleep all night, and a better appetite. I have recommended it already to all my friends and relatives." — Mrs. E. B. GLENN, 2032 Palmetto St., Ridgewood, Brooklyn, N. Y.

For the woman suffering from nervous troubles causing sleeplessness, headache, hysteria, "the blues," Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will be found a splendid medicine. For the woman of middle age who is passing through the trials of that period, it can be depended upon to relieve the troubles common at that time.

You should give it a fair trial now.

MASONS WILL SEE LINCOLN

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Visitors to the Capital City who go to the beautiful Lincoln Memorial in Potomac Park are invariably struck by its spartan simplicity, its lack of interior ornamentation and furniture.

The great throng of Masons who will come to Washington in the Shrine convention in June, will see the Memorial, as well as the surrounding park, at its loveliest. There will be many who will wonder why the interior of the memorial contains literally nothing whatever except the statue of Mr. Lincoln, the mural paintings, and the bronze letter quotations from Mr. Lincoln's greatest speeches.

Perhaps it may help some who stand reverently before the giant statue of America's man of sorrows, trying to visualize and reconcile the tragedy and the beauty which was the Great Emancipator's life, if they carry in their hearts the simple words of a custodian of the Memorial, who said, when asked if he was not lonely when there were no visitors: "Oh, no! I am not lonely. For when there are no visitors I have always the feeling that I am alone with Mr. Lincoln."

Whatever the reasons for the magnificent simplicity of the interior of the Memorial, the effect for any visitor who has the inner eyes and mind with which to see and think, is that of being "alone with Mr. Lincoln," an experience which cannot but make a better citizen of any man who has had it.

SCOUT DIES

YOUNG PEOPLE ORGANIZE AT CHURCH

TUSTIN, April 17.—Fifteen young people of the Tustin Advent Christian church met Sunday night in the church and formed a Loyal Workers society under the direction of Mrs. Harry L. Hanson, one of the Sunday school teachers.

To Fill Big Need
There has been no young people's society in the church for many years and the new organization is expected to fill the need in that regard. The idea was discussed first at a social affair given by Mr. and Mrs. Hanson to the young people of the church at the Hanson home on Orange avenue, Santa Ana last Tuesday night.

The usual half hour singing period of the church has been discontinued and the society will occupy the room formerly given over to that purpose. The older people of the church will meet in the rear of the church in one of the Sunday school rooms.

Because of the annual church conference in Pasadena, the members of the local church, there will be no services Sunday with the exception of the Sunday school in the morning.

The delegates elected to the conference at Pasadena are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shatto, William D. Bowman, Miss Olive Bowman, Mrs. C. Squires, William Brown, Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mrs. Harry L. Hanson, Rev. William Snider.

It is the plan of the church to have an all-day rally of the young people's union April 29. The matter has not been definitely settled, however.

ALL DAY MEETING HELD BY W. C. T. U.

TUSTIN, April 17.—An all-day meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Presbyterian church of Tustin was held at the church last week. Mrs. W. L. Leiby and Mrs. John Dryer were hostesses. Luncheon was served to the following: Mrs. S. E. Tingley, Mrs. Whitney, Mrs. William Satterwhite, Mrs. Edward Utt, Mrs. Phillip Ebell, Mrs. Hollis Lindsey, Mrs. Edward Johnson, Los Angeles; Mrs. Stearns, Miss Minnie C. Childs, Mrs. O. A. Leiby, Mrs. E. C. Hatfield.

Mrs. W. L. Leiby and Miss Minnie C. Childs will be in charge of the quarterly birthday party of the First Presbyterian church to be held at the home of Mrs. Leiby Wednesday night.

TUSTIN, April 17.—Mrs. S. E. Shirley, sister of Morgan A. Page, who has been visiting at his home for some time, left for her home in West Terre Haute, Ind., this morning. Mrs. Shirley likes this country very much, and as soon as she disposes of her property in the east she intends to return to Southern California to make her permanent home. ### BEGIN HERE TODAY

Vendetta begins between MICHAEL SAYERS, noted criminal, and

SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead an officer sent to arrest him. Sir Norman falls in love with Janet and marries her. Michael rescues Lord Kinsley and his daughter, Beatrice, when their auto runs wild. Beatrice and Sayers fall in love.

Sayers and his band of robbers break into Kinsley Court and rob the guests. Beatrice asks to be allowed to keep her jewels and Michael consents. Police and detectives are unable to trace the robbers. Michael returns to Kinsley Court and returns Janet's jewels. Sayers announces to his chief confederate his intention to retire.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY

Norman Greys is talking: He must have touched his horse with a whip. I saw him on the words had scarcely left my lips before he was galloping away, making for the loneliest and bleakest part of the moor. I heard a stifled cry from Beatrice, a cry that was almost a sob.

Michael Takes Up the Story
I lunched one Sunday morning at the Cafe de Paris with my friend Gaston Lefevre, the well known insurance agent of the Rue Scribe—a luncheon specially planned to celebrate the winding-up of one of the greatest coups of our partnership.

"You must now be a very wealthy man, my friend," Lefevre said to me a trifle enviously.

"As a matter of fact, that is one of the reasons why I have decided to levy no more contributions upon the fools of the world."

"You are not going to retire?" Lefevre cried in a tone of alarm.

"Absolutely," I assured him. "I have burned all my boats in England, destroyed all my papers, sealed up my secret places of refuge and fled to this remote spot in the south of France."

"As for that," my companion confessed, slipping his wine, "my position has never been so difficult as yours. I have never stolen a penny in my life, or raised my hand in anger or strife against any of my fellow-creatures."

"You have made a million or so by those who have," I reminded him.

"It is a trifle, that," he declared. "Let us speak of yourself, my friend. You are in the prime of life. You have just brought off one of the finest coups which have ever been planned. A hundred and fifty thousand pounds to divide for the sale of those jewels, and not a single clue left behind! What is going to take the place of those things to you in life?"

I shrugged my shoulders, for indeed I had asked myself the same question.

"There is plenty of amusement to be found," I answered.

"That is all very well," he pointed out, "but if you destroy for yourself, as you say you have done, all the hundred and one means of escape which our ingenuity has evolved, you will have to step warily for the next few years."

"My disappearance," I replied, "will be your task. Today we divided the last installments of our recent profits—amounting, I think, to a little over two million francs. Half a million I have placed in this envelope. They will be yours in return for the service you are about to render me."

"It is a difficult matter, this, then, my friend?" he asked anxiously.

"On the contrary, it will give you very little trouble indeed," I assured him. "You have, I think, among your very useful connections, a friendly one with a certain French hospital."

"Your task, then, is simple," I explained. "In the bag which I left at your office yesterday are clothes, jewelry, papers and other trifles of apparent insignificance. The next unknown man who dies in the hospital, of my height and build, will be wearing these clothes, and will have in his possession the other trifles. I have spoken of which have been carefully chosen to establish my identity. The authorities will notify the French and New York police, Scotland Yard and the press."

"And afterward?"

"There is no person breathing," I told him, "to whom I shall confide my plan. I am in no hurry. I think you will agree that for a certain length of time, I could move about Paris without fear of being recognized."

"It is, without doubt, true," my companion assented, leaning back in his place and studying me thoughtfully. "I passed you on the boulevard and here, in the entrance, without a single impulse of recognition. I did not know you even when you spoke to me. I feel you, Michael, my companion, confided with some enthusiasm, 'that no artist upon the stage or off it, in our day, is such a master of human disguise as you.'"

"I will not attempt to say that you flatter me, Lefevre," I replied, "because, as a matter of fact, I believe that what you say is the truth. Very well, then, just as I am, I commence as much as may be left to me of the aftermath of life. Within a week I shall leave Paris. You may never see or hear of me again."

A fortnight later I read my obituary notice in a dozen papers. The New York Herald devoted a column to me, and the Continental Daily Mail followed suit. The Times dismissed me with half a dozen lines of small print, which seemed unkind when one considered the quantity of free space.

EVENING SALUTATION

It is far more difficult to be simple than to be complicated; far more difficult to sacrifice skill and cease exertion in the proper place, than to expend both indiscriminately.

—Ruskin.

GUARD THE CITY'S BEAUTY

The city of Redlands is experiencing some difficulties in bringing its new subdivisions to ideals of what makes a city beautiful.

Similar difficulties have arisen in Santa Ana. Rapid growth has brought a number of problems, including problems that concern streets, sewerage and water. In accepting some of the subdivision maps, the Board of City Trustees has insisted that new tracts have their street lines brought into line with existing streets. At Redlands, just now, the principle question in acceptance of subdivisions seems to be that of proper setting of dwelling houses. The Redlands Facts in discussing the matter says:

At the session of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce this morning the fact that in some few cases new houses have been built closer to the street than makes the best ornamental effect, was brought up and discussed. It developed that in one case, at least, there was some excuse on the part of the property owner, because of the fact that the lot built upon is a "key" lot, and if the owner had built his house further back from the street, he would have had it right opposite the garage of his neighbor on the right-angled street.

But the question of proper setting of dwelling houses is most important at this time when the community is taking a spurt in building, and there should be, if possible, some restriction that will take care of the situation from the standpoint of city beauty. It is mighty easy to let the matter go by the boards for the time being, awoken to it when it is too late, and then the unevenness of dwelling lines remain as a reproach to the city for ever afterwards.

In many cases subdivisions contain such restrictions. Certainly the city trustees should not accept any more subdivisions which do not take into consideration this item of placing all houses at a given distance from the street, and probably the committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce can suggest one or two other things which should go into subdivision plats before they are approved and accepted by the municipal authorities.

There are, however, many lots within the corporate limits of the city which are in subdivisions already accepted, and the plats of these subdivisions contain no restrictions of any kind. If possible the city trustees should provide such zoning or other laws as will take care of that situation.

It is possible for us to greatly improve the future appearance of the community, or to make it ugly. One will cost only a little effort—nothing more; the other means only inattention. And the time to take the necessary action is now.

STOLEN AUTOMOBILES

Automobile stealing is on the wane. Various cities report a steady decrease in the number of thefts, in spite of the big increase in the number of cars. One city has had fewer cars stolen the first three months of this year than in any similar period within five years, though the number of registered cars has doubled in that time.

Several factors are responsible. Protective laws have been made more drastic, police and courts have been more severe in enforcing the laws, drivers have learned to be more cautious in locking and double-locking their cars. Perhaps the chief credit goes to the automobile clubs and insurance companies, which have stimulated improvement along all these lines to safeguard their own interests.

It may be too much to expect that automobile-stealing will ever become as scarce as horse-stealing. It might be, though, if automobile owners were uniformly careful about hitching their steeds and locking the garage doors.

That Texas girl who danced for twenty-seven hours continuously ought to take lessons in speechmaking and run for the United States Senate.

LIBERTY IN ITALY

Premier Mussolini of Italy deserves credit, at least, for his honesty. He is candid enough to say that Fascism, the philosophy of his party, "has nothing to do with liberty," but is "anti-liberal," and that his government is virtually a military dictatorship. He feels perfectly safe in admitting all this because he thinks the world is "tired of liberty."

His Italians may be. They have acted as if they were, in submitting tamely to a comparatively small band of Fascists, whom they allowed to seize the government and override the constitution. If so, it is an odd throw-back to ancient times. Under the Roman Empire, Italy submitted to a succession of military dictators for centuries.

But Italy then was not inhabited by millions able to read and write, aware every day of what had happened in Rome the day before. Neither was there a great, free, self-governing world outside of Italy.

It might be a good guess to say that while Mussolini has done a useful work, a day will come when the Italian people will find they are tired not of Liberty but of Mussolini.

PASS THE BOOKS ALONG

Clear out all the old books, magazines and papers as part of the spring house-cleaning, and pass such of them as are readable along where they can be enjoyed. This is the suggestion of the American Library Association.

The association is very much interested in getting books to forward to Europe, where the library idea is growing. When it is possible to get in touch with representatives of the association, this is an excellent way for the disposal of the book accumulation.

Then there is the American Seaman's Library Association gathering books for sailors. There are individual homes and local, county and state institutions and charitable organizations all of which can make use of extra reading matter.

A library of well chosen books is an excellent thing. An accumulation of old reading matter, much of it fiction, to which reference is seldom or never made, is a burden. Piles of old papers and magazines, kept for reference and binding, but never consulted and never bound, represent labor and fire hazard. Put into circulation, all this reading matter will do good and give an amount of pleasure too seldom considered by the ordinary hoarder of books.

Santa Ana's public library was started with books given to it by private citizens. It has received many valuable donations since then.

If you have a lot of books around your home that are useless to you, why not offer them to the city library?

The government has issued a thrift book called "How Other People Get Ahead", advising everybody to adopt a sound budget and then make it balance. Good idea. And why not send a copy to Congress?

Burn All the Laws!

Stockton Independent.
Senator V. G. Gates of Orville, in a speech in the Senate the other day, said:

"There are already too many laws on the statute books of California.
"The people are burdened now with so many laws that they don't know where to turn, and, as a result, many of them are never obeyed."
"Half the bills introduced during the present session are useless, and I, for one, am against putting any more new and foolish laws on the statute books."

"Burn all the statutes or laws of California and begin anew."
"I would like to see every law now on the statutes swept into a waste basket and then dumped into the fire. After that, call together ten or twelve real lawyers—there are plenty of them in California—and have them draw up fifty laws. Real laws, where 'yes' means 'yes' and 'penalty' means 'penalty,' and then see that the laws are enforced."

At least the Senator's proposed remedy is less sanguinary than Dick the Butcher, who proposed to Jack Cade to hang all the lawyers.

But, seriously, the Senator is engaged in the great American pastime of talking bunk. There is, no doubt, need for an intelligent codification of the laws, but so long as human relations are complex (and they will become increasingly so as civilization advances) there necessarily will be a multiplicity of laws. The fact is that laws generally lag behind their need. Abuses become general and often flagrant before a law is enacted to meet the newer conditions that produce them.

The automobile has fattened the statute books. The laws have not caught up with air navigation, while radio is engrossing the serious attention of lawmakers.

Primitive societies might be able to get along with fewer laws, as we understand laws, but the innumerable tabus result in greater personal restraint and social control.

We must have laws. Senator Gates' proposed fifty would hardly meet modern requirements. We should at least demand one more—a law against Senators talking foolishly.

Friday, The Thirteenth

San Diego Union.
This is an outstanding and significant day, if the present sudden and widespread epidemic of superstitious nonsense is taken seriously. Because today happens to be Friday, and because it happens to fall on the 13th day of the calendar month, it is "unlucky" to undertake anything of particular importance—like getting married, divorced or born. The superstition is fairly ancient.

Of course nearly everybody is superstitious, in one way or another, but it can't be denied that all general superstitions—the domestic or garden variety—have been greatly stimulated by the news of Lord Carnarvon's death a few days ago and the rumors of "spooky" drive which that unfortunate event has unleashed.

This is to be regretted, because all superstition is "unlucky." It may be urged that some superstitions—the carrying of a lucky token or the interpretation of certain auspices as fortunate—have in individual cases upheld confidence when confidence was needed and strengthened the believers when they needed strengthening. Perhaps so, but doesn't foolish encouragement of that kind only sap the character of the person who enjoys it? The man who falls on the 13th day of the month, or the presence of a rabbit's foot in his pocket is actually weakened by whatever belief he places in the token's powers.

How, too, of all the folks who have been innervated, disheartened and frightened by belief in omens of disaster or the predictions of commercial soothsayers and other charlatans of the supernatural? Was there anything "lucky" in their superstitions?

Of course there is no point in arguing against superstition, because one can't appeal to the intelligence on a matter that is essentially unintelligent. There is point, however, in urging sensible people to lend no encouragement to the superstition of the less intelligent. Even the casual and thoughtless admission that there might be "something in it" is foolish and dangerous. This applies to superstition, and not to beliefs that are founded on an intelligent and imaginative philosophy.

There is one curse that came from King Tut's tomb, and that is the curse of encouragement of credulity which the adventure in the Valley of the Kings unleashed. To believe, however, that any Egyptian curse caused anybody's death is as foolish as it would be to substitute one of King Tut's charms for a modern automobile.

College Endowments

Pasadena Star-News.
Occidental College has just completed its fund-raising campaign by which it comes into a $500,000 endowment nine months before the conditional limit of $1,000,000 expires. And now Occidental enthusiasts are off for a $2,000,000 endowment goal.

Other colleges and universities of the Southland have received liberal endowments, and some are in the midst of movements for huge funds, notably the University of Southern California, which seeks a grand total of $10,000,000. Pasadena's California Institute of Technology, Pomona College, University of Redlands, and others, have received endowments, or are in prospect of being endowed liberally.

The case for higher education is dear to the hearts of Californians. Colleges, universities and technical schools are generously endowed in this state and are supported well by student attendance. Perhaps no state in the Union is more thoroughly devoted to education—public and private, common school, parochial, college, university and technical—than is California.

A Pleasant September

Stockton Record.
Charles Mills Gayley, head of the English department at the University of California, who has been an inspiration to students of literature in and out of the university for 34 years, is to retire at the close of the present semester. He will devote himself to travel and to "satisfying his publishers." Dr. Gayley is the well known author of a number of books and says he has enough work in writing ahead to keep him busy for the next eight years. It should be a very satisfactory rounding out of a life of long service. Many will be disposed to envy Professor Gayley. Perhaps he is most to be envied in that while helping others to grow he has himself grown and may say with Browning:

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be,
The man in any walk of life who has planned for himself a pleasant September of rest, combined with fruitfulness and the fulfilling of long cherished personal dreams, is a philosopher who has learned life's true values.

The Odd One of the Family

The Typewriter's Birthday

Young ladies who type for a living will be interested to learn that the typewriter was invented 50 years ago this month. The inventor was Christopher Latham Sholes, and he perfected his device in Elion, N. Y.

Like all other important inventions, the idea of a typewriting machine had been buzzing in inventors' heads for untold generations. Probably even centuries. For laziness is back of most inventions, and the idea of a typewriter must have occurred thousands of years ago when the making of records was a slow and laborious task.

As far back as 1714, Henry Miller patented a crude typewriter in England. He gave this description of it: "A machine for impressing letters singly and progressively, as in writing, whereby all writings may be engrossed on paper, so exact as not to be distinguished from print."

But to Christopher Latham Sholes, apparently, goes the honor of perfecting the first typewriter "that really worked." That is to say, a practical device.

It's queer how, when humanity tries to do something in a new way, it cannot get the old methods out of its head. For instance, the first railroad passenger cars looked like stagecoaches. And the first autos looked like buggies.

So with the typewriter. In most of the earlier typewriting machines, models of which are preserved in the patent office, the keys were laid out in a row like the keys of a piano. It's difficult to thrust precedent aside. Finally the matter of convenience (laziness again) led to a rearrangement of typewriter keys in several rows. Then the letters instead of running in alphabetical order (a, b, c, d, etc.) were shifted so that the key to be struck next was as close as possible to the one just tapped.

Pennmanship was an accomplishment and a matter of pride in the old days, so many of the early typewriters printed an imitation of handwriting instead of type.

The typewriter has brought many advantages, but with it have come disadvantages worth thinking about. The typewriter has certainly aided in the facility of expression and communication (ease and speed), but it has also contributed to the multiplicity of unnecessary work by making expression and communication too easy.

It has been a boon to the eyesight of those who otherwise would have had to scan penned letters. But it has destroyed the human and admirable art of letter writing, and frayed the nerves of multitudes.

It helps promote business through direct communication, but at the same time it aids the flow of worthless literature without end.

All around, the typewriter forged one more link in the great chain of mechanical progress.

WILL YOU COME?

Will you come to my house, Fairy? I am poor, I am poor!
There is no velvet on the chairs, no carpet spread on the floor;
But my mother will bake a little wee cake if you will stay to tea,
And you shall have the rosy apple a lady gave to me.

Will you come through our street, Fairy? It is not very wide;
There are no pretty shops for you with beautiful things inside;
But I'd wait for you at the corner, I'd wait the whole day through,
And would carry you hidden away in my hand lest people should stare at you.

Won't you come, won't you come, Fairy? And if you would only bring
A little tiny song with you of the kind that the fairies sing,
And if you would show me the way you dance under the forest trees
I should take it very kind of you. Will you come, Fairy, please?

How Easily Water Flows

San Bernardino Sun

When one looks at the swift current of the Colorado River at any of the crossings along the California shore, or as its muddy waters go rushing through the Grand Canyon, one is incredulous of some of the statements made with reference to the enormous lakes that can be created by the erection of dams at various places along the course of the river. There is one place which has long been considered by the Edison company where a dam less than 500 feet high would back up the water for 200 miles, and create a lake of that great length, according to the engineers. An elevation of 500 feet, distributed over 200 miles, would mean a fall of exactly four-tenths of a foot per mile, or less than five inches. Will water flow through a channel so nearly level as that, with a fall of less than five inches in a mile?

There are comparisons that bear out the statement, and we find this in the Sacramento River, along the same line.

Few persons, other than civil engineers, realize how slight a slope is sufficient for drainage, in either natural or artificial channels.

For example, as shown by reports of federal engineers in charge of the navigation of the Sacramento river, the fall of the stream between Sacramento and Suisun Bay, a distance of 60 miles, is but one-tenth of a foot per mile, at periods of low water. Between this city and Colusa, 147 miles above, it is only four-tenths of a foot per mile.

Makers of cement sidewalks could profit by this information, and refrain from giving an uncomfortable slope of, say, 250 feet to the mile, toward the gutter, under a mistaken impression that this is useful or desirable for drainage.

The fall between Colusa and Sacramento, a distance of 147 miles, is exactly at the same rate as that estimated on the Colorado above Lee's Ferry, while the fall in the Sacramento river below the city of Sacramento is only one-fourth as much. Yet there is a very perceptible current in that river at all times.

It is such reservoir sites as these—there are two in the Colorado river which would develop lakes 150 to 200 miles in length, that are likely to be used in the future to irrigate enormous territories as well as to develop great power. As we remember it, the Boulder Canyon dam would back up the water for 150 miles. It is likely to be utilized first because the Lee's Ferry dam is hundreds of miles further away from the market for the power.

Health Talks

From United States Public Health Service.

"Many a mother could obtain pointers in the care of her baby by observing the way owners take care of their automobiles," says Dr. Henry L. K. Shaw, of Albany, N. Y., of the American Child Health association.

No one drives an automobile until the mechanism and inner workings of the car are understood, and the book of instructions carefully followed. Dr. Shaw points out. How many mothers have studied the book of instruction regarding their baby and learned about the mechanism and inner workings?

The automobilist knows that he must feed his engine properly for it will stall if the mixture is too rich or too lean, or if there is not the correct amount of air. The amateur mother often makes mistakes in feeding her baby if she is unable to nurse it, and she generally gives too much food and too rich a mixture or too little food and too lean a mixture and at irregular intervals.

Most automobiles are "water cooled" and require plenty of water especially in summer when it is hot. If the radiator is covered or clogged up, there is no chance for the air to circulate and the engine becomes overheated. Babies require similar care and should receive plenty of cooled boiled water in summer and should not be overdressed. They must not get overheated. The pores of the skin must be kept open with a daily bath or they will become clogged up and the baby will suffer.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

No. 5—THE ROUGH RIDERS.

The Tinker Man in Bing-Bang Land made Nick a soldier hat out of a newspaper and carved him a wooden sword. Then he painted a silver star on his shoulder.

"Now you are General Nick," he said.
And as Nancy was going to help the Bing-Bang army by driving a Red Cross ambulance, the Tinker Man gave her a belt with a strap that went over her shoulder.

Off went the Twins then to find the wooden soldier army again. They found them where they had left them, standing in a stiff straight line and staring ahead at nothing, their colonels and majors and captains all in their proper places.

Nancy scrambled up on the ambulance seat at once and started the engine. Then she fixed the handles and let out the clutch just like a real grown up person. The car started to move slowly.

Nick took his place at once at the head of the army, his sword pressed against his shoulder.

"Ready! March!" he commanded.
And away they all went. Left! Right! left right, left right, left! Their wooden legs thumped the ground at each step. At last they came to a bridge and Nick led them right over.

"Halt!" he commanded suddenly.
The wooden soldiers stopped so quickly they nearly fell over backward.

Then Nick took his spy glass out of his pocket and looked for the enemy.

But he hadn't long to wait, for just then some tin rough riders in brown suits and big hats came galloping over the hill on their tin horses.

Bang, bang, bang! went their guns.
But when they saw the water guns of the wooden soldiers they fled in dismay.

They dared not run the risk of getting rusty.
